MODERN THINKING, TRADITIONAL VALUES

Cognitive Law is a contemporary law firm built on foundations that empower our team to think client first, every time

Our collective mission is to provide our clients with the highest quality service at a reasonable and transparent cost

It's about spending more time doing the things you want to do, without compromise

Cognitive Law affords you the flexibility to plan when, where and how you manage your client work, as only you know how.

- > No commute, targets or partners meetings
- > Maintain your professional status and earn more
- > Manage your own time with full back office support

Using your business acumen and innate tenacity, you will remain a leader in your chosen field and continue to build and develop your client base. Our Solicitors are aspirational, passionate about working with clients, and in control of their personal career development.

Be your our own boss, yet part of a team

We are growing organically welcoming Solicitors looking to take control of their career and return to the business of practicing law.

- > Freedom to build your own practice
- > Develop your own client base
- > Peer-to-peer support, share experience and meet socially

We may not all sit in the same office but we are all part of the Cognitive community, as we share, develop and grow professionally together. Collaborating to share resources, knowledge and referrals, our legal community grows in strength.

Providing you full support, when and how you need it

Being part of something new and stepping out of your comfort zone doesn't mean going it alone. We enable you to work in a self-employed capacity with full back office support which makes fee earning as trouble free as possible.

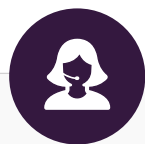

- > Direct access to Managing Director
- > Personal support service
- > Admin, billing and Paralegal support
- > Compliance management

We engage with a managed bench of Paralegals who meet the Cognitive quality standard of service. Likewise, when additional administrative support is needed, direct access to a secretarial service can be arranged.

And then there's the back office processes and procedures that our Solicitors have the comfort of knowing are being taken care of. Cognitive Law arranges professional indemnity insurance, handles compliance management and can facilitate any training requirements.

We reduce the risk of practising law independently by removing onerous overheads and administration.

We are empowering our Solicitors to discard traditional structures and operate in a new way.
