When award-winning interior designers Kingston Shaw set to work on the perfect apartment for a 21st century man they filled it with lots of modern touches, gadgets and gizmos. The property, in the heart of Liverpool city centre with views of Albert Dock and the Three Graces, is part of the One Park West development from Grosvenor.

The interior of the property, which is for sale, has been executed stylishly as well as making it a fun place to live. The hallway is covered with AstroTurf complete with putting holes. There is also an American-style locker room and state-of-the-art equipment including the country's first La Boite laptop desk and in the living/dining area there is a CD/radio/hard drive system with floor speakers by Bang & Olufsen.

In the bedroom the designers have let their imaginations run wild including a large digital wall covering that covers one side of the room and an HD projector with 70" retractable screen.

Kate Kingston, managing director of Kingston Shaw said: 'We wanted the look and feel of the bachelor's apartment to reflect the city as being both exciting and stylish, delivered with a sense of humour. We sincerely believe that we have created a unique apartment right in the heart of Liverpool.' 🍷
