Don't just take our word for it. At MGI Midgley Snelling LLP, we like our clients to do the talking...

When Nicola Phillips started her media and entertainment company, she wanted a local accountant that wasn't just a one man band.

Following a Google search, she arranged a meeting with MGI Midgley Snelling LLP and was very impressed by the accountant she spoke to.

"As I only started my company a year ago, I have had so many questions. MGI Midgley Snelling LLP go through everything with me and James has walked me through my VAT returns online more than once, so I don't make any errors.

"As a result, I know my accounts and VAT returns are done properly and how a new company should be run. MGI Midgley Snelling LLP have been brilliant."

“ I have already recommended them to a friend with a small website company because I know I can pick up the phone any time and they will be there to explain everything in layman’s terms. They have a good hands-on service and, as I know they want to help, I don’t feel like I’m a burden.”
