"Great class with a lot of material covered. Overall a stable foundation to build skills from. The consultant did a very good job of explaining some relatively complicated, counter-intuitive concepts even with some less technical folks in the room. He took the time to ensure that everyone, not just software engineers, understood the material thoroughly."

Nick, Hardware Software Integration

Custom Training Solutions

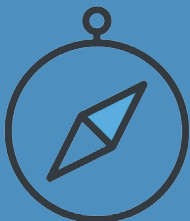

Unique to Clearvision, you have complete control over your training solution. Choose modules and materials from our established courses and get them developed and delivered in a way that suits you. This is the most comprehensive yet affordable training experience available for organisations that want to guarantee they get all they can from their tools, teams and training.

The journey begins with a question:

STEP 1 What's your end goal?

You'll work closely with our Training team to scope out exactly what you need, from course materials and content, to delivery method and lab exercises. This ensures the learning experience is geared to your end goal and the needs of your business are met.

STEP 2 Determine your path

Once your requirements are understood we will then get to work crafting either a tailored Training course based on our existing material or design and develop an entirely new course just for your organisation.

STEP 3 The journey begins

With exercises designed specifically for you, the course will follow the principle of learning by doing, getting your team to participate, ask questions, and contribute. This means your teams will learn new skills and not only be more proficient with their tools, but know how they work within your own environment. And the training doesn't end there - post-training materials will extend your learning beyond the delivered session.

Training With Clearvision

Training Credit Pool

You know what your training budget looks like - but what if you could stretch it further? With Clearvision's Training Credit Pool, we'll top up your training budget to maximise your ROI. Get training worth up to 20% of your training budget. It's on us!

Great Value

Why pay for a class of 20 when you only have a team of five? Clearvision courses are priced per delegate, so we offer great value to customers of all sizes. We also won't be beaten on price for a full day course.

Entry to Clearvision Industry Events

As a valued customer, you'll gain free entry to Clearvision's trade events. These are a great chance to talk face to face with our experts and meet up with like-minded professionals.

With You From Conception to Transformation

The Clearvision team will help you analyse the skills of your team before and after their training, ensuring we capture the maximum possible ROI.

One-to-One Account Management

You'll have a dedicated account manager available to you whenever you want to spend some of your budget. Also, our project managers will be on hand to ensure everything runs smoothly.

Custom Content

Customise courses as you see fit. That could be a small change to incorporate your Git branching strategy, a complete set of hands-on exercises using your Jira dev environment, or hours of Scorm-compliant e-learning to plug into your own internal learning management system.

Priority Scheduling

We'll work with you to schedule your events at your convenience, and our facilitators will be available for travel to site or for remote delivery at times that suit you.

Why Clearvision?

Your Enterprise-Certified Atlassian Platinum Solution Partner

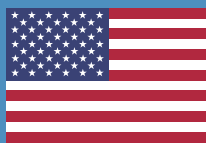

Clearvision is an innovative software services company with offices in Southampton and London, UK, as well as Philadelphia, Dublin, and Bangalore. Since 2005, we have applied our expertise to help hundreds of leading organisations manage transformation in their IT and apply agile methodology across their teams.

As an enterprise-certified Atlassian Platinum Solution Partner, we are well placed to provide large enterprises and the public sector with consultancy, technical implementation, hosting, training, and support packages for Jira, Confluence, and the rest of the Atlassian toolset. From collaborative discovery sessions to ongoing support, Clearvision empowers teams to reach their full potential.

Our experts have proven success working with the entire Atlassian toolset and Marketplace add-ons – everything from consultancy, technical implementation and hosting to training and support packages.

This is backed by expertise in open source tools like Git, SVN, Nexus and Jenkins, as well as popular solutions such as Artifactory and QASymphony. Our deep experience of the SDLC space also enables us to tackle legacy software such as IBM Clearcase/ Clearquest (Rational) and HP Quality Center (HP-ALM).
