Anytime Conferencing

On-Demand Audio and Web Conferencing to Connect with Anyone, Anytime, Anywhere

AnyTime Conferencing

Today, web and audio conferencing are an essential part of everyday communication within the workforce. First Communications AnyTime Conferencing allows you to host cost effective meetings for up to 300 participants. AnyTime Conferencing can help maximize your business time, resources, and global communication.

Benefits:

✓ Reliability and Quality: Our fully redundant network, helps protect the reliability of your connections and minimize the impact of outages on your enterprise.

✓ Reduce Total Cost of Ownership (TCO): Leverage your First Communications network and voice investments to help lower your total cost of ownership.

✓ Simplified Access: With First Communications service there are no complicated downloads or special software requirements, participants can join meetings with ease.

Features

✓ Single dial-in and access code for 24/7 conferencing
✓ Schedule meetings and start from Microsoft® Outlook® and Lync®
✓ Branding and customization options
✓ Dial out to participants bringing them into the conference