

MOXIE KNOWLEDGE

24x7 Accurate Information for Your Customer Service Agents

THE INDUSTRY CHALLENGE

It's often difficult to find vital company information for both enterprises and small businesses alike. Imagine how your agent feels if they struggle to find the information they need while attending to a customer.

Today, more and more customer service agents rely on knowledge management tools as a primary resource for providing answers to customer queries. Maintaining accurate information and managing this knowledge repository can require a company to employ expensive resources such as IT professionals, web designers, and developers.

By deploying a robust and powerful knowledge management solution, your company will realize the benefits of increased agent productivity, improved overall customer satisfaction, and reduction of data management overhead.

"Today consumers rely on mobile devices for everything from shopping and paying bills to booking travel and ordering dinner, and the process can be frustrating," said Nikhil Govindaraj, Moxie's vice president of products, in a statement. "Moxie gives enterprises effective tools to support their customers' needs for information and service to encourage customer loyalty and repeat purchases to improve business results."

THE MOXIE SOLUTION

Moxie Knowledge provides around-the-clock access to a scalable web-based application where organizations store and publish data, content, and help files for web self-service, contact centers, and employees. Flexible article access, robust review workflow, and simple authoring enhance the centralized knowledge repository. Powerful reporting indicates which articles users seek and what information is unavailable, driving continuous improvements.

Praised by customers and industry analysts alike for its ease of use and reporting functionality, Moxie Knowledge is completely integrated across Moxie's assisted and Self-Service channels, improving service quality and increasing first contact resolution success.

Benefits

- Low IT Overhead: Easy-to-use web interface for administrators and content managers extends and grows with your enterprise.
