

Project: UGG Store Knightsbridge

Client: Deckers UK

Sector: Retail

Duration: Multiple Projects

Data cabling was installed throughout the UGG Store in Knightsbridge and in the off-site storage facility to allow a trial of a new software and hardware package

The Data cabling Installation was carried out overnight while the store was closed to avoid disruption as the structured cabling extended throughout the shop floor and back office.

The job was completed as a fast track installation as all structured cabling needed to be complete and operational before the store reopened the next day

Dedicated security was arranged in advance to hastened the installation and minimise potential issues

The project has also spread to several other data cabling installations in UGG's other London Stores
