GIROVEND
SMARTPAY

The GiroVend SmartPay Web-Loading solution provides a convenient and secure method for cardholders to add value to their card from any PC connected to the Internet.

The traditional way of loading value has been to insert coins, notes or credit / debit cards into a card loader at a designated physical point. Now the cardholder can register on line to load funds via a registered debit or credit card straight to their card from the comfort of any PC.

WEB-LOADING SYSTEMS

GiroVend offers an easy way of adding value to a card within the privacy and security of the users computer screen. Once an account has been established for a cardholder, they can go to the secure SmartPay website and enter their log-in and security details they will then have the ability to transfer money electronically to their card account. The next time a cardholder uses the card in a device that is connected to organisation's cashless network, the transfer of value is made and instantly available for use.

The GiroVend web-loading system offers cardholders the ability to add funds from any device, whether it is a vending machine, point of sale terminal or loading device as long as it is connected to the network. Customers don't have go to a dedicated or prescribed machine to use SmartPay, allowing organisations greater flexibility as well as lower capital investment.

GiroVend administrators can utilize innovative on line reporting tools, low maintenance site registration process and simple configuration and installation. GiroVend uses firewall friendly Internet technologies that save time and set-up effort for the IT department.

The close working relationship developed with PayChannel (part of G4S Technology) has given GiroVend a strong and reliable heritage in managing the value transfer process, network interfacing and ongoing support. The GiroVend Card Management software can be set to automatically create an account with SmartPay and to trigger an email to the cardholder to prompt them to set up the value transfer account, all during the initial system setup.

KEY BENEFITS:

- Simple online registration process with cardholder Help facility
- One time credit and debit card detail registration – including multiple cards
