

EXETER CITY COUNCIL

Development Brief for South West Alphington

People are being invited to have their say on development just outside Alphington.

Exeter City Council is asking local people to contribute their ideas on the design of a new housing development on land to the south west of Alphington.

The City Council has already identified the area as suitable for new homes to help meet housing needs in Exeter. The homes will contribute towards the total number of 12,000 required in the city by 2026.

The draft Development Brief provides detailed guidance to those involved in planning and designing any new development at the site. It also provides those with an interest in the project, whether they are neighbours, local residents or other interested parties, with guidance on the issues that can be considered during the planning process.

The consultation, which runs to 28 March, will help finalise the way the development will look.

The draft Development Brief and supporting documents are available to view at www.exeter.gov.uk/SWAlphington. Copies of the draft Development Brief and supporting documents are also available for inspection at the City Council's Customer Service Centre in Paris Street, Exeter, between the hours of 9:00am and 5:00pm, Monday-Friday.
