TRAD Safety Systems Announces Opening of New Depot in Bristol

The UK's Leading Supplier of Fall Safety Solutions is now the Only Company of its Kind to Offer Nationwide Coverage.

TRAD Safety Systems is celebrating its continued growth with the opening of its newest depot in Avonmouth, Bristol – following previous depot openings in London and Birmingham.

The new site was strategically chosen due to its close proximity to the M4 and M5 motorways, enabling TRAD Safety Systems to effectively service customers throughout the South West.

The division has successful operations at depots in Glasgow, Leeds, Manchester, Birmingham and London and is now able to serve existing customers and develop new relationships in the South West as well.

With its new infrastructure and facilities, TRAD Safety System's new premises provide a truly efficient operating unit, enabling the company to provide a first-class service to existing and new clients. The company will be recruiting further staff using labour from the local area and training them to meet TRAD's high standards.

Since acquiring the TRAD Group in 2012, Altrad Group has made significant investments towards increasing TRAD Safety System's UK coverage; Jim Gorman, National Operations Director said:

"We chose the depot in Bristol because it gives us the responsive capability to offer fall prevention safety services to the Building, Construction, Civil Engineering and Maintenance Industries. We believe that for any company in our industry to be successful, good transport links, state-of-the-art equipment and a committed, experienced workforce are essential. In choosing Avonmouth as the location for our new depot, we believe we now have everything we need to continue our success throughout the whole of the UK."

Having a depot close to the M4 and M5 motorways will enable us to supply our diverse range of equipment to meet all customer demands. Whether customers require TRAD Edgeguard Roof Safety System, Horizontal Safety Lines, TRADGuard or TRAD Safety Decking, having these transport links will mean we're able to service and complete every project effectively.

TRAD Safety Systems' new Bristol Depot

Jim Gorman, National Operatives Director; Geoff Sutton, Operations Manager and Kathy Griffin, Administrator

We have an experienced managerial and sales team of Geoff Sutton, John Kay and Kathy Griffin to run our Bristol depot. With a first-class team like this, we're looking forward to seeing TRAD Safety Systems flourish in the South West."

TRAD Group Managing Director, Des Moore stated "Due to great customer demand, the company has taken the decision to open a sixth depot in Bristol, in which we have invested over £1 million – made possible with the continued support of the ALTRAD Group."

The new depot opened at the beginning of March 2016 and was fully operational immediately.

TRAD Safety Systems looks forward to welcoming new working relationships, and is encouraging any companies that feel they would benefit from TRAD Safety System's market leading products and services to get in touch.
