Privacy Statement

Here at Bakewell Physiotherapy Group we take your privacy seriously. We are required by law to keep clinical records regarding your physiotherapy assessment and treatment.

These records must be kept for eight years after discharge, if you are an adult; for children, their records must be kept for 8 years after their 18th birthday or until the young person is 26 if the child was 17 when their treatment concluded. After this time, clinical records will be securely destroyed and disposed of.

It is important to us that you are confident that any personal information we collect from you will be held securely. Your clinical notes will be kept in locked filing cabinets. Information including your contact details will be kept on a secure database.

If we need to discuss your information with another medical professional — for example a GP or consultant — we will always ask for your consent before we do this.
