- Personal data shall be processed in accordance with the rights of Data Subjects under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) May 2018. In particular, Data Subjects have the right:
- To be informed whether personal data about them is being processed, its source and nature, the purposes of processing and the likely users/recipient(s);
- To be informed of the logic of any purely automated decision which significantly affects them [in an educational institution this may apply to multiple-choice tests marked by computer].

Institutions holding personal data have the right to ask for proof of identification and to charge a reasonable fee before releasing it to a Data Subject.

- Appropriate measures shall be taken against unauthorized processing of personal data and against accidental loss or destruction to personal data.

Data for which the College is responsible

This policy is based on the model Notification developed for the UK higher education sector.

Data belonging to the School - whether it be administrative data, admissions and enrolment data, coursework data which students have submitted for assessment, or data staff have collected in the course of employment with the School - falls within this policy regardless of whether it is gathered and-or processed on or off School premises or via online channels.

Activities carried out by members of the School at home, or when travelling with a laptop or tablet, may therefore fall under this policy; conversely some processing carried out on School premises may be the responsibility solely of the individual concerned.

Data for which the School is not responsible

The following categories of data are excluded from the requirements of this policy:

- Personal data for personal and domestic use (such as, for example, addresses of personal friends) held and processed by staff and students - even if it is done using College computing facilities.
- Personal data processed in the course of a member of staff's activities not directly related to their employment with the School, and where this activity is likely to lead to commercial exploitation.

The School is not responsible for this and it would not normally be appropriate for such activities to be carried out using School facilities without special arrangements being made.

- Personal data processed on behalf of another organisation with which a member of staff or student is associated in a private capacity or in the course of wider academic or professional activities (eg a managing a local community group or organising a conference for a professional body or national student group) - even if it is done using College computing facilities.

The School is not responsible for this and it would not normally be appropriate for such activities to be carried out using School facilities without special arrangements being made.
