"We knew K3 would help transform our business processes and offer a safe pair of hands".
"With K3, we had access to a live demo environment so we could experience our solution from early on in the process".

The perfect people

"The team at K3 are very experienced and knowledgeable. Every person working on our project had worked in a retail or manufacturing business themselves".

"We selected K3 because of the people, their approach and their flexibility."
"A partner that speaks my language!"

Cost reduction

"We were looking to reduce costs incurred through disparate systems.

The subscription based model made sense for our growing business as it was more scalable and flexible to our needs"

Real-time business vision

"We now have a single, real time and accurate view of our stock as well as our customer to further develop our multichannel capability".

"We wanted a joined up end-to-end solution that was integrated into our merchandising and finance system. We now have one solution from our head office, to back office, to the store and it connects to the POS".

A platform for growth

"We needed a flexible solution that would support our growth plans and help us move forward faster".

"The K3 solution was tailored to fit my business needs. The potential and the possibilities of the new version were one of the reasons we selected K3 Retail. We now have a product that is future ready".

"We needed a multi-currency system that supported both Sterling and Euro currency trading".

Increased control

We now have full control from sales management, purchasing, production control, logistics, distribution and all financial underlying processes and it's quick and efficient.

"With the insight we now have, we are closer to our data and able to make the right decisions faster".

Responding to customer need, K3 help more than 3,700 companies make the right technology choices on the path to their business future.
