

HOFMANN®

Ammanford MOT Station Ltd in South Wales has grown in 2016 – with a Class VII HOFMANN MOT pit lane helping the business develop. Joint proprietor Tracy David-Davies explains more:

“We did speak to quite a few other people but from dealing with our HOFMANN representative, that persuaded us because he was very professional and accurate, anything we asked of him was done, so because of the service we were getting my business partner Marc Jones and I decided to go with HOFMANN.

“When all of the plans were drawn up and submitted it was all done efficiently. We started the process over the festive season last year but we didn’t have to wait for anything to be done. Even though it was that time of year, whenever we had to get in touch everything was sorted out.

“We have been up and running since the middle of July and while we did have a few little teething problems – not everything can always go 100 per cent smoothly – they were all resolved quickly.

“The right men were on the job and the equipment is working fine so this has all been a positive for us. Overall the business is going well and now we have got to keep on growing.”
