

keep you informed as car technology makes never-ending advances.

Your investment and rewards

As a BHP UK dealer, as with any business, your success depends on the investment you are prepared and able to make. Personal effort and time is ultimately the key driver in how successful this opportunity will be for you.

Mapping procedure

Our programmer and user-friendly software interface makes the procedure for mapping a vehicle very simple and straightforward by following these easy steps:

1. Plug the programmer into the OBD2 socket of the car, and select the make and model.
2. Follow the instructions on the programmer.
3. Connect the programmer to your PC and start the computer programme to automatically send the map to us.
4. We do the hard work and modify the map and send it back to you.
5. You receive the remapped file and load it onto the programmer.

6. Plug the programmer into the car's OBD2 port and upload the map to the car.

Our expectations of you

Candidates should be working in, or have a knowledge of the automotive industry – this can be either mobile or workshop-based. They should also be self motivated and enthusiastic about tuning, have good customer skills and a basic understanding of computers.

Our facilities

We are a company committed to succeeding and staying ahead of the competition. With this in mind, we continually invest in new technology and our facilities include a chassis dyno, dealer level diagnostic equipment, state of the art programmers, a sophisticated and wide range of ECU data editing software and of course a team that has the ability to make the most of all this technology. We also appreciate that it's just as important for us to stay abreast of new technology so we continually attend training courses ourselves.

A SATISFIED CUSTOMER

"I have found BHP UK excellent and very helpful – from the maps to the service and turnaround times of all files. The maps I have had tuned have had great gains on many different vehicles across the range – from sports cars to 4x4s. I have had very good feedback from my customers about the better drive, more power and money savings they are seeing with better fuel economy. If I ever have problems there is always someone there at the other end of the phone to help."
