

Software Audit

Do you know if:

- You have licences of all software on your network?
- All your PC's have the security software necessary to work effectively?

If the answer to either of these is NO, it could mean a major security breach or £10,000 fine!

- Software manufacturers are getting increasingly concerned about privacy and so are rallying to increase pressure on companies to audit their software and avoid being fined for illegal software use.
- In recent times, there has been a massive increase in virus propagation and security loopholes. When adequate protection is not applied the result can be both devastating and costly.
- AVI Systems can provide an accurate audit of your network to check where unlicensed or inappropriate software has been installed. Also, the audit will highlight security weaknesses so that they can be handled quickly.
