Profile

Kay is a multi-disciplined professional with over 20 years experience dealing with contentious litigation and corporate Insolvency managing the Debt Unit at one of Peterborough's largest firms of Solicitors where her clients were major blue chip companies before managing a debt litigation firm, heading its Litigation Department, a role in which she represented members of several of the regions Chamber of Commerce and national Trade Associations including the Electrical Contractors Association and Association of Plumbing & Heating Contractors before taking up training as a Quantity Surveyor with Arbicon focussing her talents on construction disputes.

Kay is an expert and advocate in debt litigation with full working knowledge of debt recovery processes together with County Court procedures, High Court procedures and insolvency proceedings. Kay is also an experienced negotiator and works as an advocate of ADR including adjudication under the "Construction Acts", namely the Housing, Grants, Construction & Regeneration Act 1998 and the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 and the associated Schemes for Construction Contracts that go with those Statutes. Kay has worked with Employers, Architects, Quantity Surveyors, Engineers, Contractors, Subcontractors, Solicitors, Barristers, Adjudicators, Tribunals and the Technology & Construction Court.

Kay works closely with the Arbicon team thus all issues are thoroughly examined resulting in the best possible advice available to any person or corporation involved in construction business. A rare combination of surveying and law skills, with particular expertise in resolving disputes out of Court and quickly promoting cash flow and resolving unwanted problems. Arbicon are now one of the leading firms of advocates for construction disputes and adjudication in the UK. Quantity Surveyors with specialist knowledge of the law in construction and adjudication are the best option for help in any construction dispute and Arbicon do not differentiate between large or small parties or disputes, resolution is made to work commercially whatever the case.
