HISTORY:

Developed and first produced in 1925 by Dr. Harry Campbell MD FRCP, a leading Harley Street, (London) Paediatrician.

PURPOSE:

Specially designed and shaped to assist infants (and parents) cope with the teething process. Bickiepegs provide the correct exercise vital to the development of a baby's jaw bones, muscles and teeth – key aspects of developing chewing skills and speech. The hardness of the biscuit satisfies the bite that emerging teeth require. The shape is designed to allow the baby to "bite" at both the front (incisors and canines) and back of the mouth to reach the molars. Some professionals believe chewing on the biscuits prior to teething helps teeth grow straighter and with better spacing.
