CROSSING WOLVES

February - Main Gallery Free Entry

Exhibition from Local photographer Graham Stubbs.

"My work is inspired by what I see around me every day, I like the idea of "mapping", or exploring familiar places as if they were foreign and unfamiliar."

The Crossing Wolves series was produced on a single walk along the canal from Billbrook to Bradley Lane. "There is something magical about the Black Country canals. They are a link to the heavy industry of our past, but also now a ribbon of nature running through the centre of a very built up area." The collection also features some of Graham's other local photography.
