

Raising Standards
Advancing Safety

DHF TRAINING COURSES

During this very difficult time, DHF is conscious that there is still a need for installation engineers and managers to keep occupied, as well as being up to speed with standards and legislation. Recognising this, and always one to be at the forefront for technical support and advice, DHF is pleased to announce that online training will be available very soon via the DHF website.

Online training from DHF will continue to provide the UK's best training, including legislation, safety standards, force testing and more, featuring experts in the field who are trusted by Governmental bodies including HSE and Ofqual.

Courses available imminently include the 1-day Level 2 Award in Automated Gate & Traffic Barrier Safety and the 1-day Level 2 Award in Industrial & Garage Doors Safety, with more courses to follow as quickly as possible.

Course attenders will be able to view complete training videos on the DHF website and download all relevant training material to use on-site or studied further at home. As soon as classroom courses resume, candidates will be welcome to schedule face-to-face learning at the DHF Training Academy and to sit their exams with the opportunity to have them accredited.

Announcements will be made via email to members as well as the DHF website & social media portals as soon as the online training can begin and, if you would like to be on the DHF mailing list to be informed, please email training@dhfonline.org.uk.

Kind regards.

Michael

Michael Skelding MA (Oxon)
DHF General Manager & Secretary

t. +44 (0) 1827 52337 w. www.dhfonline.org.uk