

Genesis... The Sliding Sash Window

It's the attention to detail that makes the difference

Heritage...

It's the attention to detail that makes the difference

Everything about the Genesis Sliding Sash has been designed to maintain exquisite period elegance without compromising the low maintenance and thermal efficiency benefits that modern PVC-U windows have to offer.

The Genesis Sliding Sash is all about the detail...

Renowned for its unique but traditional timber jointing methods used on the sash and frame, the Genesis Sliding Sash also features elegant milled run through sash horns and a deep bottom sash rail for true authenticity and period charm. Matching milled Georgian/Astragal bars can be added to complement or replicate any design or period feel you desire, perfect for sensitive conservation areas.

The Genesis Sliding Sash combines traditional period elegance with 21st century PVC-U technology, the only truly authentic alternative to the timber windows of yesteryear.

Colours and Finishes...

It's the attention to detail that makes the difference

Genesis is all about taking something great and making it even better. Our range of stunning colours and beautiful woodgrain foiled finishes help to do just that.

Nothing is standard about the Genesis Sliding Sash and there's also nothing standard about our colours and finishes....

Our palette has been carefully selected to replicate the colours that were traditionally used to paint sliding sash windows. You can even choose to have one colour to the outside and a different colour on the inside to complement your interior décor.

All finishes are highly durable and won't peel, fade or crack over time, so your windows will look as stunning in years to come as they do the day they're installed.

Energy Saving...

It's the attention to detail that makes the difference

The beauty of modern PVC-U windows is thermal efficiency using state of the art technologies to keep your home warmer and your heating bills down, Genesis will offer you the same.

The Genesis Sliding Sash easily achieves a thermal Window Energy Rating of 'A'...

Genesis has been specifically designed to meet and exceed all current legislation for thermal efficiency.

If you want all the benefits of modern PVC-U windows with all the period beauty and traditional charm of timber, look no further than the Genesis Sliding Sash to give you everything and more.

Genesis will not only enhance a building's appearance but reduce carbon emissions, heating bills and ongoing maintenance costs.

Keeping the elements out and money in your pocket. That's... Genesis

Conservation and Planning...

It's the attention to detail that makes the difference

PVC-U windows in conservation areas and Grade II listed buildings have historically been strangers, but the Genesis Sliding Sash is now being widely accepted throughout the UK and in some areas specified as the real alternative to timber.

Genesis and conservation... a perfect match.

The Genesis Sliding Sash is more than a match for timber in terms of aesthetics and thermal efficiency. Unlike timber, Genesis is virtually maintenance free and a simple wipe with a damp cloth will keep your windows as new as the day they were installed.

Genesis will not only enhance a building's appearance but reduce heating bills, ongoing maintenance costs and carbon emissions.

The photograph opposite shows a beautiful period, semi-detached property.

The windows to the right house have been respectfully replaced with traditional, energy efficient and maintenance free PVC-U Genesis Sliding Sash...

The left house still has the original timber windows which have not been replaced...

What's really amazing is that it's virtually impossible to tell the difference and that's... Genesis.

"It was important to preserve the traditional appearance of our property but at the same time we needed to improve the security, energy efficiency and eliminate on going maintenance costs.

The Genesis Sliding Sash ticked all the boxes and we are so pleased with the result, the best investment we've made in our home and everyone should consider Genesis as a truly authentic alternative to timber".

WENTLES VALLEY
COTTAGE

The photograph to the right shows a modern detached property built around the late 70's.

The property was fitted originally with timber windows which were very tired, drafty and in need of regular annual maintenance.

After careful consideration the Genesis Sliding Sash became the obvious choice for this homeowner. The decision to choose Genesis was easy based on performance, low ongoing maintenance costs, traditional authentic appearance and value for money when compared to timber windows.

What a transformation...

Genesis Sliding Sash windows have given a new lease of life to this 70's property... True kerb appeal with a traditional twist.

Another great investment which has not only increased the value of the property it has also dramatically reduced heating and maintenance costs, another massive bonus for the lucky homeowner.

Life changing, that's... Genesis.
