

Privacy Notice

At 20 Degrees, we are committed to maintaining the trust and confidence of visitors to our website. Here you'll find information on how we treat data that we collect from visitors to our website.

Visitors to our Website

When someone visits www.20degrees.co.uk we use a third-party service, Google Analytics, to collect standard internet log information and details of visitor behaviour patterns. We do this to find out things such as the number of visitors to the various parts of the site. This information is only processed in a way which does not identify anyone. We do not make any attempt to find out the identities of those visiting our website.

We do collect personally identifiable information through our website via our 'contact us' form. We will use this information to respond to the person making that contact, if necessary.

We do not sell nor make available to third parties the information provided to us via our 'contact us' form.

Links to Other Web Sites

This privacy notice does not cover the links within this site linking to other websites. Those sites are not governed by this Privacy Policy, and if you have questions about how a site uses your information, you'll need to check that site's privacy statement.

Cookies

We use cookies to understand and save your preferences for future visits and compile aggregate data about site traffic and site interaction so that we can offer better site experiences and tools in the future. When first visiting our website, you are asked to give consent to our use of cookies.

Access to Your Personal Information

You are entitled to access or ask us to remove any personal information that we hold about you. Such a request can be e-mailed to our data protection officer.

Changes to this Privacy Notice

We keep our privacy notice under regular review. This privacy notice was last updated on 11 May 2018.
