

HELLO FROM YOUR LIBERTAS TEAM AND IT'S BUSINESS AS USUAL

With so much change happening in our world right now, we wanted to reassure you in these socially distant times, we remain very much open for business as usual.

Libertas started using Microsoft Teams and Zoom in 2019 so we were all well versed in keeping the lines of communication open between our team members.

We've also used these tools to great effect in the last week, replacing the face to face meetings for our Clients and professional connections alike. All video calls have gone well, the phone system is also available on mobiles and secure emails are being received without issue. We receive our postal deliveries and are able to post important documents out to you, all in all you will notice no change from our service.

We're here for you

Our main aim is to provide clarity which will enable you to make better decisions.

We don't just help you to get the best out of the situation now, we also ensure that risks which may come along are taken into account for the future.

If you would like to talk to us or discuss something specific, please get in touch
