Overview

NRL provides the people and skills that organisations need in order to perform. We help clients address skill shortages, meet project deadlines, access specialists and work efficiently. NRL achieve this through the provision of permanent, contract and temporary recruitment, alongside contracted engineering, training and testing services.

"We are committed to our clients' success which is why they can depend on our expertise at work"

Our business has two halves - people and contracting. The people element of our business is about recruiting experts to ensure that our clients get the right people for the job. On the contracting side we work in partnership with our clients to help them deliver projects on time and within budget.

NRL provide the following specialist services:

- Recruitment
- Rail
- Non-Destructive Testing
- Training

Recruitment Division

NRL have been recruiting people for the technical, engineering and construction industries for over 30 years. This makes us one of the most experienced recruitment businesses in the industry. We use our extensive knowledge and expertise to provide our clients with a tailored solution.

We provide cost effective recruitment solutions by working in close partnership with our clients, delivering results on time and within budget. We understand that the needs of every client are unique and vary according to sector and location.

Our strength is our people, with an industry leading low turnover of staff and a management team which has an average of 18 years' service; we are able to provide continuity to our clients and an excellent level of customer service.

We have a long-established track record of delivering our clients suitably qualified and experienced candidates on a temporary, contract and permanent basis.

The depth and breadth of our recruitment knowledge, as well as the industries we service, mean that NRL is perfectly positioned to source the right candidate for the job.
