Support can be tailored to meet your organisations level of need and stage development

€650 per day

Two sessions

An important element of effective implementation, delivery and development of the Incredible Years programmes is the continuing self-assessment and professional development associated with programme fidelity. Archways provide Incredible Years Group Leaders with not only the initial training but access to continued support and coaching in order to ensure group leaders continue to develop their delivery skills and get the maximum benefits and achieve the best possible outcomes from programme delivery.

Group Leader Certification

Group Leader certification forms a central part of the IY delivery model and group leaders are encouraged to begin delivery as soon as possible after they receive the group leader training and engage with the process of group leader certification. The process of certification is considered an integral part of the training process and as part of that process the leader will gain valuable feedback from participants and peers on his/her leadership ability. The certification as a Group Leader will grant listing as a Certified Group Leader with the Incredible Years Centre in Seattle. In order to be considered eligible for certification group leaders will be required to complete two full groups and provide the relevant paperwork for those sessions as well as submit a tape of programme delivery for review.
