... DORSET ...

A FAIRYTALE CASTLE BY THE SEA

Built to entertain royalty, this stunning 17th century castle is set at the heart of the family-owned Lulworth Estate in extensive rolling parkland, with sea views, a beautiful church and a private chapel in the grounds.

Through the centuries, Lulworth Castle has played host to countless guests - including seven monarchs. Today, it offers a breathtakingly beautiful backdrop for your wedding in a truly iconic setting on the Jurassic Coast.

Your Ceremony

Lulworth Castle is licensed for civil ceremonies and symbolic blessings, which take place at the heart of this historic building. The 15th century Anglican church and the 17th century private Catholic chapel are also just a short walk from the castle.

THE DINING ROOM

With its majestic arch, and longer aisle, this room is the perfect setting for weddings of up to 130 guests. Simply style with candles, lanterns and foliage to enhance this mesmerising space.

THE COURTYARD

St. Andrew's Church

Historic Anglican church in the grounds of Lulworth Castle.

St. Andrew's Church sits to the south of the castle, surrounded by a magnificent backdrop of endless sky and rolling Purbeck hills. Accommodating up to 130 guests, this is the ideal venue for an Anglican wedding ceremony.

For centuries, the church has been a place of worship. Its 15th century tower and Purbeck stone font pre-dates Lulworth Castle itself. The rest of the church was rebuilt in 1864, with plans drawn up by a young Thomas Hardy himself.

“One Of The Finest Pieces Of Georgian Architecture.”

Anon

The Chapel of St. Mary is set deep within the grounds of Lulworth Castle and is considered to be one of the finest pieces of Georgian architecture in Dorset. This private family chapel was built in the 1780s, and was the first free-standing Roman Catholic chapel to be built after the Reformation. Designed to look like a classical garden building, its dove grey brickwork and beautiful domed frescoed ceiling, is lit through clear windows rather than stained glass, to create a tranquil and inspiring atmosphere. This is a truly exquisite venue in which to make your commitment to each other.

EAT, DRINK & CELEBRATE

We believe that every wedding is unique; an expression of your style, love and individuality. The raw textures of the partially restored interior of Lulworth Castle create a charming canvas on which to express your personality.

After the ceremony, it's time to raise a glass and to celebrate the joining together of two families. This is when Lulworth Castle comes into its own as you and your guests laugh, dance and celebrate late into the night.
