THE BEST FIT FOR YOU

Purchasing an aircraft can be a complicated process. We ensure this journey is as seamless as possible, from the initial specifications to final acceptance. We can judge from your requirements whether you would benefit from one of the following options; jet ownership, fractional ownership, commitment to a single operator, leasing or sharing your flights with others.

“ In the Antarctic summer season of 2017, we worked with ConnectJets and their team to transfer clients from South Africa to Novo Runway, Antarctica. ConnectJets performed the charter with the utmost professionalism, successfully sourcing and safely arranging shuttle flights on a Falcon 7X to land on the ice runway owned by the National Antarctic programme.

CONNECTJETS SOMMELIER

Organic and biodynamic wines are produced from the healthiest, most robust and least chemically manipulated grapes, so ensuring the best quality raw ingredients. This leads to high-quality wines with plenty of character and the ability to withstand the rigours of altitude. Our sommelier will prescribe Altitude-certified wines to members, without compromising on quality.

CONNECTJETS NUTRITIONIST AND WELLBEING

As part of the programme, we are looking to help combat the negative effects that flying has on the body. It is widely accepted that flying, particularly for extended periods, can lead to; fatigue, impaired ability to digest and detoxify dehydration, reduced mental acuity and impaired immunity. Both the environment and nutrition play a huge part in our long-term health and wellbeing due to the negative environmental factors which come into play at altitude – therefore we focus on tailoring these factors to ensure our clients disembark refreshed.
