

Buy your commemorative CASSiRoyale today!

We know that as a UK resident you already have the celebratory dinner set and underwear, but what better way to show your patriotism than to order the CASSiRoyale for your factory. Imagine the motivation you will feel when you are gazing out at your production floor with William and Kate in the centre, reminding you, as loyal subjects, what we are all working for.

The CASSiRoyale comes complete with a detachable union jack flag for those rare occasions when you need to prove your allegiance and do not have a flag to hand.

Now, you may be thinking, "but those machines are made in Germany!". However, as all fans of the Royal Family will know, the House Of Windsor's history is steeped in Germanic heritage. So, ordering your machine in Euros is actually proving you are a real Loyalist!

We understand that some of those reading this are not fortunate enough to be able to celebrate one day with a £300,000 machine. So to the right are a selection of items available which have been preapproved by UFE.

All proceeds from CASSiRoyale - The William and Kate edition™ machine sales will be donated to the William and Kate honeymoon fund.

Kind regards,
Lindsay.
