

Wikaniko International Distributors Guide

Please read carefully and fully

Introduction

The position of International Distributor opens up a world of possibilities for expats, for people living in the UK who have families and friends in other countries, and for entrepreneurs who want to build a worldwide business.

The proposition is simple: as a self employed distributor you can conduct business FROM any country in the world. You may attract UK customers to the shop (ideal for Internet marketers) and you may attract UK distributors, thus enabling you to build a potentially strong, rising monthly income, and achieving the position of International Distributor.

You may also attract distributors in any country in the world on the above basis.

Example:

You live in Spain most of the time. As a distributor for Wikaniko you will conform to the UK MLM laws. (Many countries have very different laws and regulations to the UK and we have no desire to fall foul of those countries' rules).

You have a Spanish credit card. That's fine – you can stipulate this in the Billing address section, and choose that card to pay with.

You have a Spanish address because you live most of your time in Spain. That's fine – if we ship to your country, you can stipulate this in the Delivery addresses section, and choose either your UK address or your Spanish address for goods to be shipped to.

You can attract UK customers to your Wikaniko shop, who will earn you commissions – a wonderful prospect if you have lots of friends and family in the UK, and/or you know about Internet marketing.

You can attract distributors in the UK who want to build a team here. This is easy to do with our lead generation system which provides prospect leads from both the UK, and from various countries. With Skype, VOIP, online meetings etc., you can run any business from anywhere in the world these days. You don't have to be sitting at a desk in Manchester or London to build a massive business!

You can attract other distributors in your own country (or indeed any country in the world) who want to do the same as I have outlined above. You can build an unlimited global business – and so can they.

There is NO registration fee to join Wikaniko. All it costs is £24.95 to set up your website with an online supermarket with around 1000 products, and access to the online training, distributor forum etc.

The qualification to receive your commission is extremely simple to achieve too. You need to qualify with just 36CV per month (about £40). This qualification can actually come from your online customers' orders. As you are building your business, you can place a standard monthly qualification of 36CV made up of trees, which we plant in Africa. So no physical goods need to be shipped to you, avoiding expensive shipping charges, but by purchasing trees you have paid for physical goods, which go towards helping to save the planet.

We actually ship goods to many countries, which is ideal for you to obtain samples etc to show potential customers, and for you to use the products yourselves.

Before you join, please go to the Shop on the Wikaniko website, and click on the delivery lorry icon to find out the costs to deliver products to your country.
