About Balhousie

Balhousie Care Group is Scotland's largest privately-owned provider of residential and nursing care.

Currently, the Group provides care across 25 homes in Scotland.

Since opening our first home, in Lisden in 1991, it has always been our focus to provide a safe and caring environment for the older adults entrusted to our care.

Our passion and ethos is to deliver high quality, personalised care. This means getting to know every resident, and working with their family and support network to ensure all opinions, preferences, needs and wants are fully understood. This creates a tailored service based on specific care needs.

Our Values underpin everything we do for you.

We strive to be the leading provider of care. Our success has been built on a number of core company values that guide the way we work with our partners, within our communities and with each other. We are also committed to providing high quality professional development for our staff.

Our approach embraces simple ideas that help deliver care and support in a better way. In many of our homes, we have purpose-built specialist units designed and equipped for residents with dementia and Alzheimer's Disease, learning disabilities and Huntington's Disease, which allows residents to remain in familiar surroundings even when their conditions progress.

Our primary objective is to deliver high quality care within dignified and respectful environments.

Our Values

INSPIRING

As employers we want to motivate and encourage our people, as people working in care, regardless of role, we have a heartfelt belief that every resident is an individual and as such, care should be built around them and their families.

PASSIONATE

As employers we want to motivate and encourage our people, as people working in care, regardless of role, we have a heartfelt belief that every resident is an individual and as such, care should be built around them and their families.

RESPONSIVE

Working within Balhousie Care Group, we strive to centre all care provision on an individual and their families, providing what they need as they need it. As our residents requirements change we adapt to meet them.

TRUSTED

We have over 25 years of care provision, operating at the highest standards, with full professional accreditation, operating with transparency and integrity. Our experience and knowledge enables us to deliver a trusted and professional service.
