

Professor Madeleine Abrandt Dahlgren

Department: Medical and Health Sciences

Division: Community Medicine

Linköping University (LiU), Sweden

Professor Dahlgren is Subject Representative and Research Leader for the Medical Education Research Group at LiU since 2012. She has published widely within the field of higher education particularly regarding the relationship between professional/higher education and professional work. She is currently working on a four-year national research project on “Interprofessional learning and simulation-based medical education” in collaboration with Gothenburg University Learning and Media Technology Studio and the Center for Advanced Medical Simulation and Training, Karolinska Institutet, Stockholm, financed by the Swedish Research Council