CCTA CODE OF PRACTICE

“ FOLLOWING THE CODE IS AN INDICATION TO BOTH THE FINANCIAL CONDUCT AUTHORITY (FCA) AND TO YOUR CUSTOMERS, THAT YOU ARE A REPUTABLE ORGANISATION, AND CAN ONLY ADD VALUE TO YOUR BUSINESS.

CCTA IS COMMITTED TO CAMPAIGNING FOR BEST PRACTICES IN LENDING THROUGH ITS COMPREHENSIVE CODE OF PRACTICE. THE CODE DEMONSTRATES OUR CONTINUING EFFORTS TO RAISE THE STANDARDS, AND INCREASE THE VISIBILITY AND CREDIBILITY OF THE CREDIT INDUSTRY.

The purpose of this code is to ensure the compliance of our members to the standards of 'good practice' set by CCTA. Following the code is an indication to both the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) and to your customers, that you are a reputable organisation, and can only add value to your business.

When issuing or renewing authorisation, the FCA guidance on fitness and requirements indicates that they look favourably on any organisation which is a member of an association with an effective Code of Practice, that promotes compliance with CONC rules. They consider all applicants' credit competence, which includes:

- the skills and experience of an organisation to carry out the activities covered by authorisation
- knowledge of, and ability to comply with, relevant regulation
- the practices and procedures an organisation proposes to operate in connection with its authorised activities.

Under our Code of Practice, CCTA operates a free complaints conciliation scheme. It is an effective way of dealing promptly, sympathetically, fairly and effectively with customer complaints, and is highly regarded by the FCA. Through our council, we monitor the compliance of members to the code, and issue an annual certificate as a condition of recruitment and renewal.

This code not only provides a framework for compliance, but also an avenue for customer redress. It offers reassurance to the public that you are a 'fair' company to deal with, and allied with your CCTA membership, adds to the quality, reliability and integrity of your organisation.

I commend the sound business judgement that has brought you to our door, and urge you to promote not only your adherence to this Code of Practice, but your CCTA membership itself.

CONSUMER CREDIT TRADE ASSOCIATION CODE OF PRACTICE

1 THE ASSOCIATION AND THIS CODE

The Association represents finance companies, banks, building societies, payday lenders, logbook loan lenders, home loan credit grantors, retailers, peer to peer lenders, leasing companies, credit brokers, professional firms, debt collection companies, debt management companies, credit scoring agencies, software developers and systems suppliers and others operating in the consumer credit industry.

The purpose of this Code is to ensure compliance by members with the minimum standards set by the Association.

The Association and its members shall publicise the existence of this Code and, where appropriate, provide details of the Complaints Procedure.

2 MONITORING AND COMPLIANCE

The Association, through its Council, shall monitor members' compliance with the Code and shall require members to compile an annual statement of compliance as a condition of continued membership of the Association.

Members shall promptly notify the Chief Executive or other officer nominated by the Council from time to time, of any matter of which they become aware, which might adversely affect the reputation of the consumer credit industry in the United Kingdom or the reputation of the Association.

The Association, through its Council, may take action against any member found to be in breach of this Code. Such action may, without limitation, include visits, written warnings, requests for written explanations and meetings to discuss, and where possible, to resolve the matter. The ultimate sanction, which the Association may impose, is the suspension or expulsion of a member from the Association.

3 GENERAL OBLIGATIONS: OBLIGATIONS OF MEMBERS WHICH APPLY IN ALL CIRCUMSTANCES

Members shall:

- 3.1 Carry on business in relation to credit related regulated activities only if they are authorised to do so by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) or otherwise permitted to do so by the FCA, such as appointed representatives of authorised persons.
- 3.2 Conduct their business lawfully and in accordance with:
 - (a) all relevant legislation and in particular the Consumer Credit Act 1974 (CCA 1974) and the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (FSMA) and relevant orders and regulations under those Acts
 - (b) relevant parts of the Handbook of the FCA, in particular Principles for Business (PRIN) and the Consumer Credit Sourcebook (CONC)
 - (c) relevant codes of practice, judicial decisions and general rulings and directions of the FCA, unless subject to challenge, supported by advice received by a member from its professional advisers.
- 3.3 Pay due regard to the interests of their customers and treat them fairly, with the object of ensuring the following outcomes:
 - (a) fair treatment of customers is central to the corporate culture of the member
 - (b) products and services are designed to meet the needs of identified consumer groups and are targeted accordingly
 - (c) consumers are provided with clear information and are kept appropriately informed before, during and after a sale or the provision of a service
 - (d) any advice given to consumers is suitable and takes account of their circumstances
 - (e) products perform, and any associated service is of an acceptable standard, as the member has led consumers to expect
 - (f) consumers do not face unreasonable barriers to change the product or provider or to submit a claim or make a complaint.
- 3.4 Pay due regard to the information needs of their customers and communicate information to them in a way which is clear, fair and not misleading and conduct their business honestly, responsibly and ethically.
- 3.5 Conduct their business with integrity and endeavour to ensure that credit brokers, suppliers of goods and services financed by the member and all other persons with whom the member has commercial relationships, do likewise.
- 3.6 Act responsibly and with due care in the day-to-day conduct of their business.
- 3.7 Not knowingly misrepresent facts to a customer concerning any aspect of a credit, hire or lease transaction. Members shall also take all reasonable steps to ensure that brokers, suppliers and any other intermediaries, when acting as agents for or on behalf of the member, do not misrepresent facts regarding such transactions to a customer.
- 3.8 Ensure that they comply with the rules relating to appointed representatives.
- 3.9 Respect confidential information supplied to them in the course of their business.
- 3.10 Ensure that credit, hire or leasing documentation embodies all the express terms and conditions of the agreement which affect the customer's obligations.
- 3.11 Where appropriate, restrict the period of an agreement financing goods to the life of the goods financed by it.
- 3.12 Provide adequate training for their staff, bringing this Code and its contents to their attention and require their staff to carry out their duties in accordance with this Code.
- 3.13 Comply with obligations and any conditions, which may be imposed by the Financial Conduct Authority with regard to their FCA authorisation or permission.
- 3.14 Comply with any relevant or applicable requests or requirements that may be notified to them by the Association and emanating from the Bank of England, the FCA or any other relevant authority.
- 3.15 Comply with any guidance that may be issued by the Association in relation to the Code.

- 3.1.6 Ensure that their agreements (and any related agreements), the manner in which they enforce their agreements, their dealings with individuals (whether consumers or business customers) and anything done or not done by or on behalf of the member (either before or after the making of the agreement or any related agreement), do not give rise to unfair relationships between the member, as creditor or lender, and the individual, as debtor or borrower, under CCA 1974¹.

4 CONSUMER TRANSACTIONS

Financial promotions and communications with customers.

Members shall not use direct mail indiscriminately, shall act responsibly and prudently in their advertising and marketing and ensure that all their advertising, promotional materials and customer communications are clear, fair and not misleading.

- 4.1.1 Members shall ensure that their advertising materials, promotional literature and communications with customers comply with all relevant rules and legislation and, in particular, with CONC² and the provisions of CCA 1974 relating to the marketing of credit to minors.
- 4.1.2 Members shall ensure that all advertising complies with the British Code of Advertising, Sales Promotion and Direct Marketing, the Radio Advertising Standards Code, the Television Advertising Standards Code, OFCOM and other relevant codes of practice of similar standing.
- 4.1.3 Members shall not engage in high pressure selling or other sales aggressive practices.

Responsible Lending

- 4.1.4 Members shall engage in responsible lending. Members shall grant credit, hire or leasing facilities on the basis of credit scoring or other assessment or evaluation of the customers' ability to borrow or hire, and the ability to repay.
- 4.1.5 Before granting or increasing a credit facility or a hire or leasing facility, members shall assess the customer's needs and circumstances, the customer's creditworthiness and the sustainability of the customer's payments. Members shall take all reasonable steps in this respect and have special regard for the requirements prescribed in CONC³. In determining the reasonable steps to be taken and whether a credit reference agency should be searched, regard should be had to:
- the nature and amount of the facility
 - the information provided by the customer.
- 4.1.6 Members shall take particular care in relation to applications for credit from young people.
- 4.1.7 Members shall continuously monitor their credit granting practices and their assessment techniques to ensure that they are prudent and realistic in the prevailing economic circumstances. Members must not rely solely or primarily on the value of security and may not be less rigorous in assessing a customer's ability to repay by reason of the sole fact that security is offered.
- 4.1.8 To the extent that they use credit scoring techniques, members shall abide by the principles set out in the publication 'Guide to Credit Scoring 2000', as subsequently amended, updated or replaced. Where members do not use credit scoring techniques they must make clear to a declined applicant whether or not a refusal relates to a credit reference agency report and furnish the customer with details of the credit reference agency used.
- 4.1.9 Members shall ensure that where a customer is refused credit and believes the refusal to be unreasonable the customer is given the name or title of a senior official of the member who will review the application.
- 4.1.10 Members shall have due regard to CONC⁴ in respect of lending in general and specifically lending to non-status or sub-prime customers.
- 4.1.11 Members shall provide appropriate assistance, in the form of information and guidance, to vulnerable customers.

Pre-contractual explanations

- 4.1.12 Members shall provide their customers with adequate pre-contractual explanations in compliance with CONC⁵.
- 4.1.13 Members shall make disclosure of commission arrangements to their customers as required for compliance with CONC⁶.

The Regulated Agreement - Credit and Hire

- 4.1.14 Members shall use plain and intelligible English in all agreements, pre-contract information documents and communications with customers. Members shall use prescribed wording where that is required by law.
- 4.1.15 Members shall ensure that their agreements (and any related agreements) with consumers do not contain unfair contract terms.
- 4.1.16 Members shall tell customers the interest rates, charges and rentals, as appropriate, applicable to their accounts and agreements, the basis on which any other charges are calculated and when and how they might be charged.
- 4.1.17 Where members vary interest rates they shall publish those variations by notices in their branches, if any, or in the press, or by sending notices directly to those customers affected and in any event, as required by law. The need to publish does not apply to agreements under which interest rates vary in accordance with a published rate not under the control of the member.
- 4.1.18 Members shall tell customers how any variation of the other terms and conditions of their agreement will be notified and shall give customers reasonable notice before any variation takes effect.
- 4.1.19 Members shall comply promptly with all statutory and other reasonable requests by customers for information about their agreements and accounts.
- 4.1.20 Members shall supply copies of documentation and statements of account (the latter being provided in an easily intelligible form) as required by law.
- 4.1.21 Members shall comply with their legal obligations in relation to the provision of information and cancellation rights in respect of distance contracts.
- 4.1.22 Members shall assist customers seeking advice and guidance.

Matters arising during the course of the Agreement

- 4.1.23 Members shall comply with their legal obligations in relation to the issue of statutory notices, statements of account and settlement statements.
- 4.1.24 Statutory notices, statements of account and settlement statements shall be clear and in plain, intelligible English.

Enforcement and Debt Collection

- 4.1.25 Members shall ensure, by regularly examining their debt collection procedures and those of any third parties they employ, that the debt collection procedures comply with legal and regulatory requirements, conform to high ethical standards, allow for proper consideration of the customer's circumstances and in particular:
- encourage customers in financial difficulties to inform members of their difficulties at the earliest possible moment (and members will endeavour to respond sympathetically, without prejudice to members' rights)
 - in all relevant correspondence state the name or title of a specially trained member of staff who may be contacted if difficulties arise
 - take into consideration, before determining whether to enforce an agreement, all information supplied by the customer or otherwise available to the member, relating to the cause of any default and the customer's future ability to repay. If the customer has disclosed multiple debt problems, members shall inform the customer of the availability of advisory services.
- 4.1.26 Members shall have due regard to CONC⁷ in relation to debt collection procedures.

- (c) ensure adequate disclosure of insurance policy features and exclusions
- (d) ensure policy documents are sent to customers.

8 GUARANTEES AND OTHER SECURITY

Duty of care to guarantors

Members shall advise an individual proposing to give a guarantee or other security for a customer's liability or to enter into a joint mortgage, that:

- (a) by giving the guarantee or security or entering into the joint mortgage, he or she might become liable instead of, or as well as, the customer
- (b) he or she should seek independent legal advice before entering into the guarantee or security or the joint mortgage.

Members shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of 8.1 where the guarantee, security or joint mortgage contains a clear and prominent notice to the above effect.

9 SUPPLIERS OF GOODS AND SERVICES

Members' obligations in respect of suppliers

9.1.1 Members shall encourage suppliers of goods and services financed under arrangements with them to:

- (a) maintain high standards of quality, workmanship and service
- (b) observe and participate in appropriate codes of practice which include provision for the prohibition of high pressure selling and the discouragement of oppressive and intrusive methods of canvassing and marketing.

9.1.2 Paragraph 11.2.3 of this Code shall apply equally to suppliers of goods and services. Members shall, in appropriate circumstances, report an unsatisfactory supplier to a relevant trade association.

⁸Specifically, but not limited to, CONC App.1.4

⁹Specifically, but not limited to, CONC App.1.4

10 SPECIFIC PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO PARTICULAR PRODUCT TYPES

These provisions are in addition to paragraph 3 and to the other provisions of this Code.

Credit Cards

- 10.1.1 In addition to the requirements in relation to regulated credit agreements set out in paragraph 4.3 above, members shall:
- (a) notify customers of the time it normally takes for a transaction to appear on their account and how frequently they can expect a statement
 - (b) provide customers with a 'Summary Box' relating to the financial details applying to the account
 - (c) provide customers with a 'Summary Box' relating to the financial details applying to credit-card cheques, where these are made available under the account.
- 10.1.2 Members shall:
- (a) issue cards to customers only when they have been requested in writing or to replace or renew cards that have already been issued
 - (b) notify customers if a card issued by them has more than one function
 - (c) comply with requests from customers not to issue Personal Identification Numbers (PINs) where customers do not wish to use the functions operated by a PIN
 - (d) comply with the requirements of CONC, including those applying to credit card cheques¹⁰.
- 10.1.3 Members shall issue PINs separately from cards and shall notify the PIN only to the customer.
- 10.1.4 Members shall tell customers of their responsibility to take care of their cards and PINs in order to prevent fraud. They shall emphasise to customers that:
- (a) they should not allow anyone else to use their card and PIN
 - (b) they should take all reasonable steps to keep the card safe and the PIN secret at all times
 - (c) they should never write the PIN on the card or on anything usually kept with it
 - (d) they should never write the PIN down without making a reasonable attempt to disguise it.
- 10.1.5 Members shall:
- (a) inform customers that they must notify them as soon as reasonably practicable after they find that:
 - their card has been lost or stolen
 - someone else knows their PIN
 - their account includes an item which seems to be wrong.
 - (b) notify their customers, and shall remind them at regular intervals on their statement or by other means, of the name, address and telephone number of the person to whom they must give the details of a lost or stolen card at any time, day or night
 - (c) act on telephone notification, but members may ask customers also to confirm in writing any details given by telephone
 - (d) on request, inform customers whether they accept notification of loss or theft of a card from card notification organisations
 - (e) on being advised of a loss, theft or possible misuse of a card or that the PIN has become known to someone else, take action to prevent further use of the card.
- 10.1.6 (a) Members shall bear the full losses arising from the use of a credit card:
- in the event of misuse when the card has not been received by the customer
 - in respect of transactions not authorised by the customer after the member has been told that the card has been lost or stolen or that someone else knows or may know the PIN (subject to paragraph (d) below)
 - if faults have occurred in the machines, or other systems used, which cause customers to suffer direct loss, unless the fault was obvious or advised by a message or notice on display
 - in connection with a 'distance contract' (other than an 'excepted contract').

¹⁰Specifically, but not limited to, CONC 2.3

- (b) Members' liability shall be limited to amounts wrongly charged to customers accounts and any interest on those amounts
- (c) Customers' liability for transactions not authorised by them shall be limited to a maximum of £50 (or such other amount as may be prescribed by law) in the event of misuse before the card issuer has been notified that a card has been lost or stolen or that someone else knows the PIN (subject to paragraph (d) below)
- (d) Customers shall be liable for all losses if they acted fraudulently. They may be held liable for all loss if they acted with gross negligence
- (e) in cases of disputed transactions, the burden of providing fraud or gross negligence or that a card has been received by a customer, lies with the member. In such cases, members will expect customers to cooperate fully with them in their investigations.

10.1.7 Members shall provide customers with statements of account at the intervals, and containing the information, prescribed by law.

Store Cards

10.1.8 In addition to the provisions applying to credit cards (where applicable) as set out in paragraph 10.1, members shall comply with the legal requirements applying to store cards, as set out in the Store Cards Market Investigation Order of 27 July 2006.

Members shall, where appropriate, refer customers to debt counselling organisations and notify customers where they can get free advice, such as Citizens Advice Bureaux, Money Advice Centres, National Debtline or StepChange. Members will work with debt counselling organisations to assist their customers.

If a member passes a customer's account to another person to collect overdue payments, such as a debt collector or solicitor, it will inform the customer.

17 RECORD KEEPING AND REPORTING

Members shall maintain business records and submit reports in accordance with the requirements of law and the FCA.

18 COMPLAINTS PROCEDURE

General

- 18.1 Members shall deal promptly and at an appropriate management level with complaints. Members shall establish a complaints procedure and furnish information on request about their complaints procedure. Customers shall be told what further steps are available if they believe that their complaint has not been dealt with satisfactorily by the member, including ultimate resort to the Financial Ombudsman Service.
- Customer Complaints
- 18.2 The following shall apply to complaints made by customers to the Association in relation to customer transactions.
- 18.2.1 If a customer makes a complaint to the Association in relation to an account or an agreement with a member, the Association shall, in the first instance, refer the complaint to a senior executive of the member, for consideration.
- 18.2.2 If the complaint is not resolved to the customer's satisfaction, unless the customer wishes to refer the complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service, the Association (through an appropriate representative) shall endeavour to conciliate between the customer and the member and to restore communication between the customer and the member where this has broken down. The Association shall accept for conciliation complaints made against members and subsidiary companies of members.
- 18.2.3 Nothing in this Code restricts or is intended to restrict the rights of a customer or a member to pursue remedies through the courts, except where the customer seeks resolution of the complaint by the Financial Ombudsman Service.

¹³Specifically, but not limited to, CONC 7
¹⁴Specifically, but not limited to, CONC 8

¹⁵Specifically, but not limited to, CONC 10 and CASS 11

¹⁶Specifically, but not limited to, CONC 1

- 18.2.4 The conciliation scheme shall not be invoked where a customer's complaint has already been considered under the dispute resolution scheme of any other relevant Code of Practice or of the Financial Ombudsman Service, or where the complaint has been the subject of a judicial decision.
- 18.2.5 Members shall notify customers of their complaints procedure, including the customer's right to seek resolution of the complaint by the Financial Ombudsman Service.

19 PREVENTION OF FRAUD AND MONEY LAUNDERING

Members shall verify the identities of persons seeking to enter into agreements or to open accounts, in order to assist to protect their customers, members of the public and themselves against fraud and money laundering.

Members shall establish, maintain and implement fraud prevention and anti-money laundering procedures and client identification procedures and train their staff in operating such procedures.

Members shall comply with all relevant legislation, rules and guidance relating to the prevention of fraud, money laundering and client identification including relevant Money Laundering Regulations and rules and guidance issued by the FCA¹⁷ and The Joint Money Laundering Steering Group.

20 INTERPRETATION

Guarantee

An undertaking given by a person (the guarantor) promising to pay the debts of the debtor or hirer if he or she fails to pay the same.

Payment Card

A general term for any plastic card which may be used to pay for goods and services or to withdraw cash. A card may be used for more than one function.

Common examples are:

Cash Card - a card used to obtain cash and other services from an ATM (Automated Teller Machine/Cash Machine).

Charge Card - a card which enables customers to pay for purchases, and in some cases to obtain cash advances. When the monthly statement is received the balance must be paid in full.

Credit Card - a card which allows customers to buy on credit and, in some cases, to obtain cash advances. Customers receive regular statements and may pay the balance in full, or in part, usually subject to a specified minimum amount. Interest is payable on outstanding balances.

Debit Card - a card, operating as a substitute for a cheque, that can be used to obtain cash or make a payment at a point of sale. The customer's account is subsequently debited for such a transaction without deferment of payment.

Store Card - a credit card offered by a retailer to be used in its shops and by its customers. Store card accounts may be either: Option accounts, where a customer has the choice of settling the total amount outstanding or making a minimum repayment, with interest calculated on the balance outstanding; or Budget accounts, where the customer has access to credit which is a multiple of a fixed monthly repayment.

PIN - Personal Identification Number

A confidential number provided on a strictly confidential basis by a card issuer to a card holder. Use of this number by the customer will allow the card to be used either to withdraw cash from an ATM or to authorise payments for goods or services in retail or other outlets, by means of a special terminal.

P2P agreement

(a) (in relation to a borrower) in accordance with article 36H of the Regulated Activities Order, an agreement between one person (the borrower) and another person (the lender) by which the lender provides the borrower with credit (within the meaning of article 60L of the Regulated Activities Order) and in relation to which the borrower is an individual and either:
