Printed Metal badges

Our printed metal badges are the best value metal badges on the market, offset printed in full colour on stainless steel or brass. The badges come as standard with our sparkryl resin finish and butterfly clasp attachment.

More Details

When you need to reproduce images in tone and colour, a printed badge gives the best solution. Our high quality metal printing process allow the accurate reproduction of fine details in a miniaturized format.

These badges differ from the traditional enamel badge, where raised metal wires are required to separate each colour. These badges come as standard printed on stainless steel or brass with the butterfly clasp attachment and sparkryl finish which adds dimension to your badge and protects the logo from wearing.

Soft Enamel Badges

Our soft enamel badges offer a more traditional finish using cold enamel finishing combined with iron stamping. Available with silver or gold plating and a sparkryl resin finish. More plating options are also available.

More Details

The most popular choice for large scale promotions as they are our most cost effective enamel badge, combining a high perceived value with a low cost.

We will reproduce your company or promotional logo with a hand coloured enamel finish using an iron based metal. The badges are hand coloured in cold enamel and the quality metal is perfect for high quantity runs. To add that new dimension and depth of character to the badge you can also top the badge off with our sparkryl finish.

Die Stamped Badges

This finish radiates quality and value, great for corporate jewellery or recognition badges. This product can have a sandblasted background to create a classic looking badge. The badge is die stamped in either copper or brass and plated in a choice of gold or silver. Available with butterfly clasp, magnet or pin attachment.

More Details

These badges are die stamped in either copper or brass and can then be plated in a choice of gold, silver or bronze. The raised areas can be highly polished to contrast and compliment the misty textures recessed areas, providing superb definition for any detailed graphics.

The finish is the perfect choice for medals, brooches, staff badges and for employee recognition awards.
