

Community Development Coordinator - Kingswood

Are you looking for a new remote, part-time opportunity in Kingswood? If so, we want to hear from you. Southern Brooks is adding a Community Development Coordinator to our energetic team, and we're offering a generous salary with many excellent benefits.

Being part of Southern Brooks means more than just work. There's a huge range of fun and exciting things that you can get involved in.

In your first few weeks in this Community Development role, you can expect to:

- Provide community leadership working in partnership with local groups
- Raise funding to support community development
- Build relationships within and across the community
- Coordinate multi-agency community development in Kingswood

To apply, you will need to be a persistent and reliable conduit for introductions and linking people with others, groups, and activities.

As a vital member of our team and in return for your expertise, inclusive approach and commitment, we will provide a favourable salary and the chance to join a passionate and welcoming team.
