

Environmentally Responsible Fire Rated Timber Doorsets

Bespoke Complete Services strives to be environmentally and socially responsible; consequently we are committed to supplying products that include timber from legal and well managed forest sources.

Bespoke acknowledges that the only way to ensure timber is legal and sustainable is to purchase it from independently certified sources. The certification scheme run by the Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) is the most credible global forest certification scheme offering verification of sustainable forest management.

Bespoke is committed to purchasing increasing proportions of the timber and timber products it uses from FSC certified sources. In order to guarantee to our customers that the products they purchase from us contain these timbers, Bespoke is currently in the process of securing FSC chain of custody certification.

Aside from the ethical issues, the business case for using credibly legal and sustainable timbers in the Bespoke range of doorsets and joinery has never been stronger, whether the issue is managing business risk or creating business opportunities.

This fact is now widely recognised – by the environmental lobby, by construction professionals and their clients and by consumers.
