

Amy and Mark from Sutton Coldfield approached DHP Construction for their brand new kitchen build and fit in 2017. This is their story.

THE PROJECT: DOUBLE STOREY EXTENSION & KITCHEN

“When we first started looking for builders, we checked out the ‘Master Builders Federation’ & ‘My Builder’ websites.

We wanted someone reliable, with experience and a pedigree of large extensions. We had a short list of three, but right from the start DHP understood what we were after.

Paul came round and talked through all our requirements, gave advice and generally made us feel like we were with a safe pair of hands. We hit it off straight away.

For us having a company that would deal with the design, the extension build and the kitchen fit-out was just what we were after.”

THE DHP APPROACH

“From the start of the project DHP were thoughtful and understanding.

We have two small children so living on a ‘building site’ wasn’t ideal. They worked around our living requirements by building in sections and always making sure we had our washing machine, tumble dryer and hot water available. At times there were 15+ tradesmen on site and each one of them was skilled, professional and helpful.

Throughout the project we were in constant communication with Jen and never felt awkward asking questions. They really were with us every step of the way.”

“The constant communication, professionalism and empathy from all the DHP team was superb.”
