

Geneva On The Lake Conference Picture Gallery

Built in 1910, in the Italian Renaissance style, Geneva On The Lake was modeled after Villa Lancellotti in Frascati, Italy which was built in 1592. It was the Lancellotti Family's summer retreat about 15 miles from Rome.

"The Food is extraordinarily good." - Bon Appetit

The "lawn furnishings" with a privet hedged formal garden and pool were completed in 1930.

The 70' swimming pool overlooks Seneca Lake which is 37 miles long and 642 feet deep. Seneca Lake is noted for great fishing, especially lake trout, and is at the epicenter of New York State's Finger Lakes Wine Country.

The “warmth of winter” for Christmas, New Years, winter holidays and romantic getaways.

The living room of the “Classic Suite” with a center view overlooking the gardens. The resort has 29 Stickley furnished accommodations each uniquely appointed (10 suites have two bedrooms).

A beautiful room with wood burning fireplace and much natural light for small meetings, private dinner parties and wedding receptions of up to about 25 people.

Leonardo da Vinci Conference Suite with High Speed Business Class Internet, WI-FI and an adjoining beverage room. It is just steps away from the Terrace and formal gardens.

Lunch On The Terrace or in the shade of the trees.

“May our work be our joy . . . and our reward be the joy of others”

- Norbert H. Schickel Jr., founder

The Terrace for cocktails, receptions and al fresco dining has a cast of the original Venus de Milo in The Louvre.

Croquet, bocce, badminton, volleyball, horseshoes, basketball hoop, bicycles and boats at the dock – all on 10 beautiful acres next door to Hobart and William Smith Colleges and Geneva's Historic South Main Street.

South Lawn Tent Pavilion for dinner parties, weddings and many festive events of up to 150 people.

“I next checked into Geneva On The Lake, a grand resort in the lively burg of Geneva. It’s an excellent home base, since Geneva’s downtown has become the regions restaurant and bar nexus.”
Travel and Leisure, October 2018