

Energy & Process Optimisation

The market leader in energy management software

Typical savings 15-20% on your site energy and utility consumption. Drive down operational costs and increase profitability. Reduce delivery lead-times and environmental risk.

Strata® is a global enterprise-level, web-based utility and process optimisation platform which has been designed and developed by Cotopaxi.

Cotopaxi's market leading energy management system is an integrated hub of knowledge, metrics, information and reporting tools selected by large blue chip industrial and commercial clients worldwide to help monitor their consumption and drive projects. Strata collects high frequency process data or increment utility data, for real time exception analysis and management reporting. Strata's framework and functionality also provide our customers with the fundamental tools required to work towards and achieve ISO 50001 accreditation.

Strata is the central core of everything we do at Cotopaxi.

Strata will scale to any device whether that is a laptop, iPad or mobile phone allowing portability and easy access to the system at anytime, anywhere in the world.
