

itslearning is a global leading platform in education. Their main requirement was an open seminar theatre for their comprehensive speaker schedule during the show. This would double up as a meeting area in-between the seminars. We delivered a contemporary stand that was open and inviting to reflect their brand. We created a high back wall incorporating AV including a large screen for speaker content. We included a uniquely designed bench at the front of the stand to act as a reception/lead taking area housing laptops for more information.
