Accessibility Statement

Development of this website has been driven by accessibility standards and we are committed to providing a usable website for every visitor regardless of ability or disability. More accessible websites usually result in a site that is easier for everyone to use

This website incorporates plain English with some Welsh content where our budget allows. If you require select translations please contact us through the contact sheet and we will consider any reasonable requests for translations. The site has been developed to W3C's guidelines where our budget permits. These include Transitional XHTML, WCAG guidelines and cascading style sheets (CSS).

WCAG (Web Content Accessibility Guidelines)

All public sector websites are required to meet WCAG guidelines on accessibility to Level A standard and should aim to satisfy Level AA standard. We have developed the website to these guidelines however a site with nearly 50 pages is very hard to maintain to these high standards.

We are currently reviewing WCAG 2.0, which is the new version of the original WCAG guidelines.

If you have any comments or suggestions please submit an enquiry through our contact sheet.

Accessibility Limitations These include:

- Adobe PDF downloadable documents
- Microsoft Word, Image and Photo downloadable documents

We are making every effort to overcome these issues by making improvements to their accessibility; failing that, we provide accessible alternatives.

Downloading Documents

There are a number of Adobe PDF (Portable Document Format) and Microsoft Word documents on the website. If you are having trouble opening these files you may need additional software:

For Adobe PDFs, download the latest Adobe Reader software

For Microsoft Word documents, download the latest Word Viewer software

If you need alternative formats of our downloadable documents (such as in plain text or Braille) or if you experience any accessibility problems with our site, please contact us using the Contact Us Sheet.
