Vision Statement

“ Our vision at Patriot is to be the Number One provider of specialist pipework equipment and training in Europe. We aim to set the standards against which others will be judged. We will build upon a team of people that have attitude, determination and who will not be afraid to attempt the difficult and in doing so, will become capable of achieving the impossible. ”

Specialist Training

At Patriot we believe training to be one of the most important commodities in industry. Both for the individual and the company, training has the benefit of motivation, increased understanding and improved team capability. It is through training that we develop personally and therefore are able to contribute more towards the growth and innovation of our respective teams and organisations.

All our training courses are geared towards providing our clients with skills which will enable them to improve efficiency in the application of specialist pipework construction and maintenance services. The courses can be tailored to suit your specific technical and financial requirements. Ultimately, Patriot International has the ability to provide our clients with everything they need in order to help themselves provide a quality service to their clients.

The Integrated Solution

The ability to provide credible solutions to a problem is dependant upon various things, but in particular, experience and a clear understanding of the subject at hand are both key. Our objective at Patriot is to provide our clients with a complete training, equipment and support service that give them the knowledge and confidence to deliver a more enhanced capability to their clients.

As part of our continual development, Patriot has created its own transport and logistics division. This allows us to have more control over the delivery and collection of client orders and gives us the flexibility for special delivery times and locations. The logistics division compliments our other products and services allowing us to offer the complete integrated solution.

Equipment Rental and Purchase

On Going Project Support

We aim to give our clients confidence that any situation that arises during a project needing immediate attention, will be dealt with 24-7. Providing continual support to our clients we feel plays a major part in the successful outcome of a project and ensures the smoother running.

After the initial training of a clients personnel, Patriot can provide experienced site supervisors to oversee the beginning of a project or perhaps just the critical stages or even the project in its entirety.
