The house at Quart-A-Nancy Point is one of only a few private homes on Cooper Island. It was built in the 1960s and 70s as an artist's retreat. The construction is concrete, concrete block, and native stone. It has been fully renovated and updated for easy island living.

Quart-A-Nancy point comfortably sleeps up to 6 adults in three bedrooms. An additional 1 or 2 guests can be accommodated on our double futon. The house is arranged as two distinct living areas joined by the front porch and courtyard and is perfect for three couples, two couples with children, or a single large family. There are no roads and only 5 private residences on the island plus a nice beach bar/restaurant and dive shop.

Access to Quart-A-Nancy Point is only by boat. We can recommend possible charters from Tortola to our Private Jetty. Please see our webpage at <http://www.cooperisland-bvi.com>. Quart-A-Nancy Point is a smoke-free establishment.
