

Jessie May

Children's Hospice at Home.

Caring @ Work

Will you help?

Jessie May is a charity that provides specialist nursing care for terminally ill children in their own homes. We offer vital respite sessions and emotional support to those children's families, as well as end of life care and bereavement support. This allows families to make the most of the precious time they have together and to create treasured family memories.

Since 1996, Jessie May Nurses have provided hospice at home care to terminally ill children in Bristol, Bath and North East Somerset, South Gloucestershire, North Somerset and most recently, Swindon and North Wiltshire. Jessie May also takes children for fun days out, hosts respite days, and offers support to children who are admitted to hospital.

Caring for a terminally ill child makes relentless demands on parents. Families trust Jessie May Nurses to take on the care of their children for a few hours at a time so they can do the things we all take for granted, spending time with their other children or catching up on household chores. Jessie May Nurses help the whole family with practical and emotional support. If parents decide they want to care for their child at home in the last days of their life, Jessie May Nurses will help in any way they can. The nurses also offer ongoing bereavement support for up to five years following a child's death.
