

Web Privacy Policy

Aqualine Marketing/ Onward Trading do not disclose buyers' information to any third party, other than compliant marketing consultant and freight forwarders to fulfil delivery of the order placed.

All information received when placing your order will only be used for fulfilling your order in a timely and accurate manner. Data received from items purchased will only be used internally to ensure timely purchasing, improve the service we provide, and on occasion to allow the company to provide special targeted offers.

We do not use cookies for tracking users across the website.

Email addresses provided may be used periodically to send promotional emails about new products, special offers or other information which we think you may find relevant and interesting. It is possible to opt out of this service either by unsubscribing on the link provided on the email, or by contacting the sales team info@onwardtrading.com

We need to obtain personal information including, Name, Address, email address and telephone number in order for us to fulfil your order requirements. By providing these details, you are agreeing to let us use your email address to keep you updated with special offers and information about the company which we believe you may be interested in. MailChimp is used to send these emails and at any point, you can unsubscribe from this email by clicking on the link at the bottom, or by contacting our sales team. All of this data is held in a secure password protected file within our system which has Virus and Firewall protection. The only people with access to this information are authorised processors.

Any data collected from a customer is securely held for a relevant period of time, as per statutory requirements, and is never released to a third party. At any given time, a customer may request to see the data held on them.