Key personnel

Management team

The management team at Mackay & Inglis Limited consists of two directors, Craig Inglis and Karen Taylor CA, and ex-director Jim MacDougall, who acts as consultant.

Craig Inglis has worked within the company since 1987, gaining experience in all facets of print and production for which he now has the main responsibility. Karen Taylor has been involved in finance, administration and management since 1996, having worked for four years with a global accountancy firm after her qualification as CA. Both were appointed as directors in 2000.

Sales and account executives

David Smith

With almost 20 years experience in the print industry, David started as a fully qualified litho printer in 1994 but has also gained an HND in Print Management. He has worked as an estimator and account manager and joined Mackay & Inglis in 2008 as a Sales executive.

Cameron Taylor

More than 22 years of experience in the print industry has given Cameron experience with a wide range of customers and their requirements, in councils, universities, small to large companies and, in the last 10 years, many of the Glasgow housing associations. He has been with Mackay & Inglis as a Sales executive since 2010.

Gary Ogilvie

Starting with an HND in Print Media Management, Gary has more than 12 years experience in the print industry and joined Mackay & Inglis in 2011 as Internal account executive.

Estimating

Kathleen Johnston

Kathleen has been with the company for over 25 years and is the principal contact for quotation requests. Based on her experience she will work out the most competitive way to produce the job and advise customers accordingly.

Production

Michael Starrs

Michael gained his HND in Print Media Management in 1999 and has worked within Mackay & Inglis in various roles since 2005. He has now more than five years experience as Production controller and is well placed to deal with job scheduling, making sure those vital deadlines are met.
