WHAT MAKES A GOOD BATH- ROOM?

An interview with Philippe Grohe, head of the Axor brand and grandson of the company founder.

Hansgrohe is a company with a long-standing tradition of technical innovation. When did design become an integral part of this?

Axor was established in 1993, but even before that time Hansgrohe had already produced technically impressive products including Showers and mixers. Of course, these also looked good. In other words, design has always been a key area at Hansgrohe. By exchanging ideas with other designers we wanted to complement our ideas on the bathroom of the future with visions, lifestyles and trends that go beyond the product. That gives life and emotions to the room. This is something that we cannot do alone. And it is something that cannot be achieved by just one designer. We therefore trust in several creative designers.

You have already worked in conjunction with many of the world's most prestigious designers. Do you appoint a new designer for each collection?

We now partner with a number of international designers and architects with whom we hold regular open discussions. Some have already developed two or three collections with us.

How much freedom do you give the designers?

We put our full trust in our designers' visions and powers of innovation. When we first spoke to one of the most famous designers of our time, we truly experienced the big bang. The first complete bathroom with mixers, showers, wash basins, bath tub and WC was created from a single source. Philippe Starck's bathroom. It was a revolution.

Since then, has it been about more than just mixers?

It certainly has, it's about the entire room, an atmosphere and above all, a new way of looking at life and how we use water in the bathroom. For this reason, we choose our design partners very carefully, as they have to consider every aspect of how the space will feel and how it is going to be used, not simply how it looks. They ensure that the space works as a cohesive whole, coordinated and complete. In addition to the mixers and showers, we also work with them to develop the wash basins, bath tubs, accessories and of course, general bathroom solutions.

You look for designers with different, sometimes even highly conflicting, styles and attitudes. What do you regard as fruitful cooperation with creative minds?

For Axor, the designer's vision is at the fore. Designers should develop their own personal bathroom. We do not regard them as suppliers, but as creative partners with whom we can exchange ideas as equals. During this process, each of the partners offers their own expertise. From our perspective, this is our water and industrial bathroom expertise as well as a certain design culture.

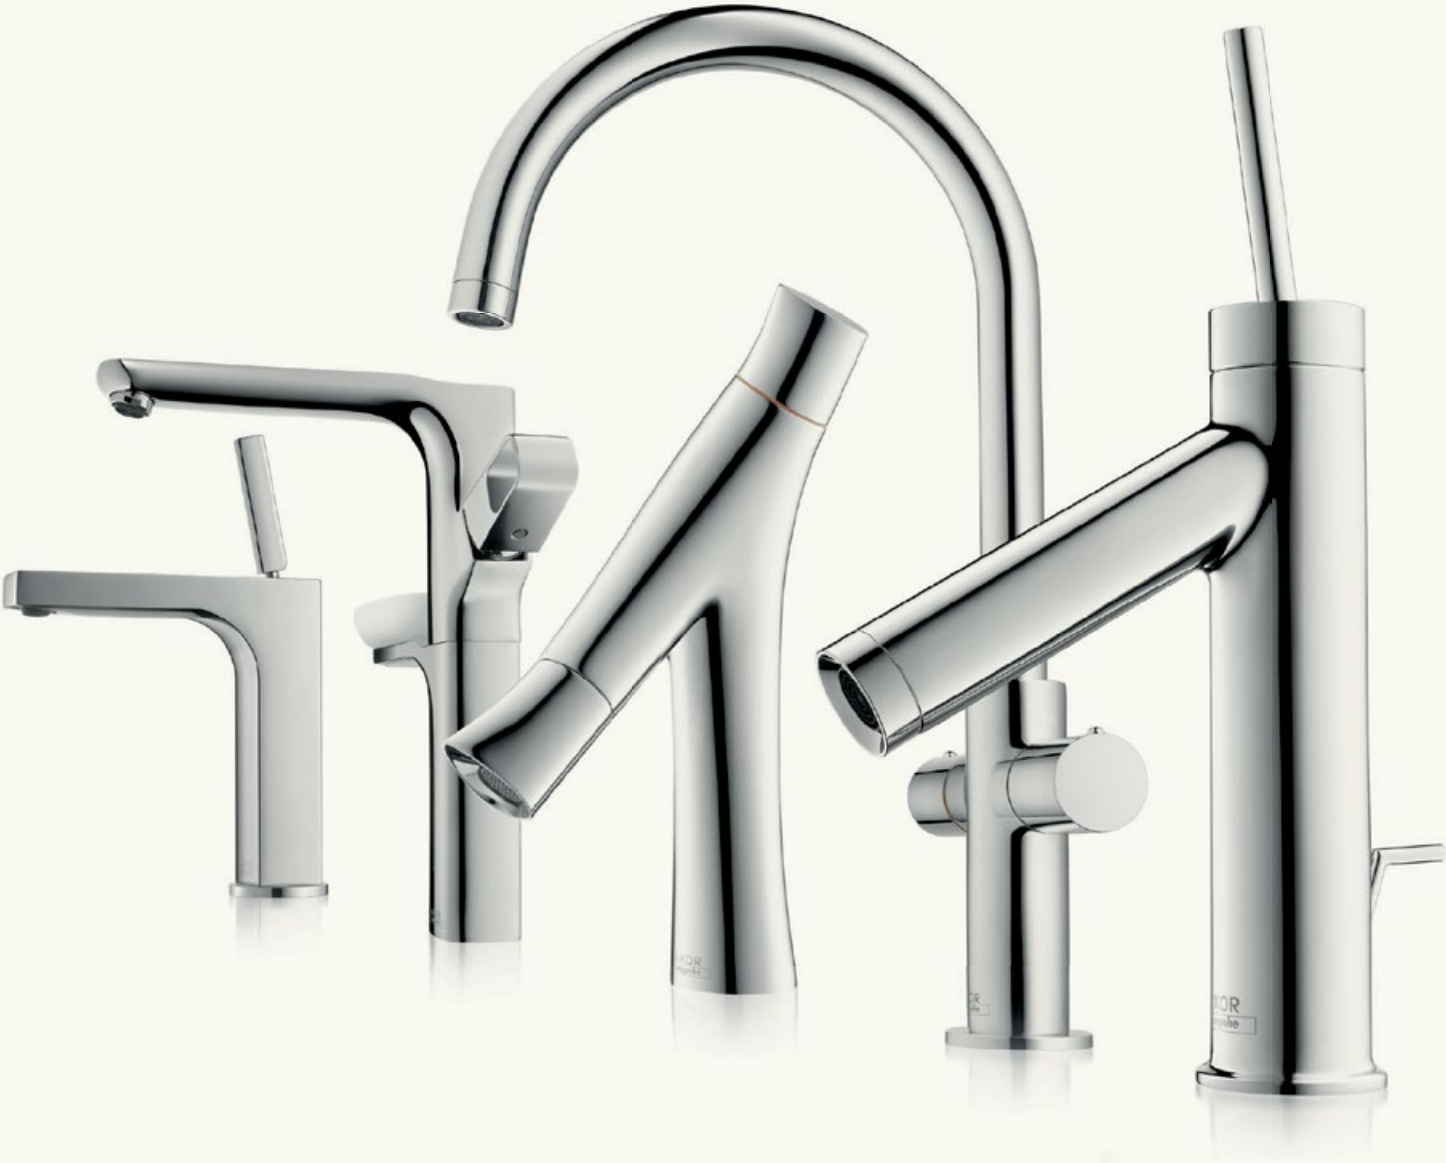

To what extent have the requirements for bathrooms changed over time?

The bathroom is changing from a place of hygiene to a place for living. This is partly attributable to our lifestyle habits. In the past, we had extremely close ties to nature. Now, our lives are dominated by an urban world and hectic everyday situations. We therefore have a growing need for a sense of tranquillity and a natural experience. More and more people are discovering the bathroom as a place for relaxation and wellbeing. It is not without a little pride that we believe we have made an important contribution to this. Antonio Citterio once said that we only have to stand under the shower for 30 seconds to get clean. So why do we shower for three or five minutes? Because it changes how we feel afterwards. Showering is like doing an hour of yoga. However, wellbeing also means using a great deal of water, which naturally poses a major technical challenge for us. After all, one thing is clear: we have to conserve the precious commodity of water.

AXOR'S DIVERSE STYLES

Collections and solutions that offer fresh perspectives on the bathroom as a living area are developed in collaboration with the world's best designers.

HOW A COLLECTION IS CREATED.

USING AXOR
MASSAUD AS AN EXAMPLE.

▲ JEAN-MARIE MASSAUD

The French designer is among the leading representatives of the nature-inspired design. He often finds the models for his designs and architecture in nature. There is no disputing that the "Truffle" lounge chair resembles the source of his inspiration. His latest masterpiece, the Mexican "Chivas" football stadium, harmoniously blends in to the volcanic landscape.

▲ As far back as 2005, Jean-Marie Massaud realised his ideal vision of a bathroom within the scope of the Axor WaterDream. For him, this is a symbiosis of the natural elements of fire, water, earth and air.

AXOR WATERDREAM® – MASSAUD'S BATHROOM DREAM.

All new Axor collections start with a personal vision. For Jean-Marie Massaud, the bathroom is a living space in which technology disappears and the focus falls instead on emotional experiences and the associated comfort and convenience. In describing his WaterDream project, in 2005, he commented: "I visualise a lake in the heart of the countryside. I want to feel like I'm sitting by a camp fire, listening to music and sipping champagne, and simply clear my mind." A feeling of complete relaxation.

Jean-Marie Massaud starts by considering the room in which his occupier is residing. He defines wellbeing as a holistic concept and lets water, man and space melt into one.

WARM END OF THE DAY

FROM WATER DREAM TO A DREAM BATHROOM.

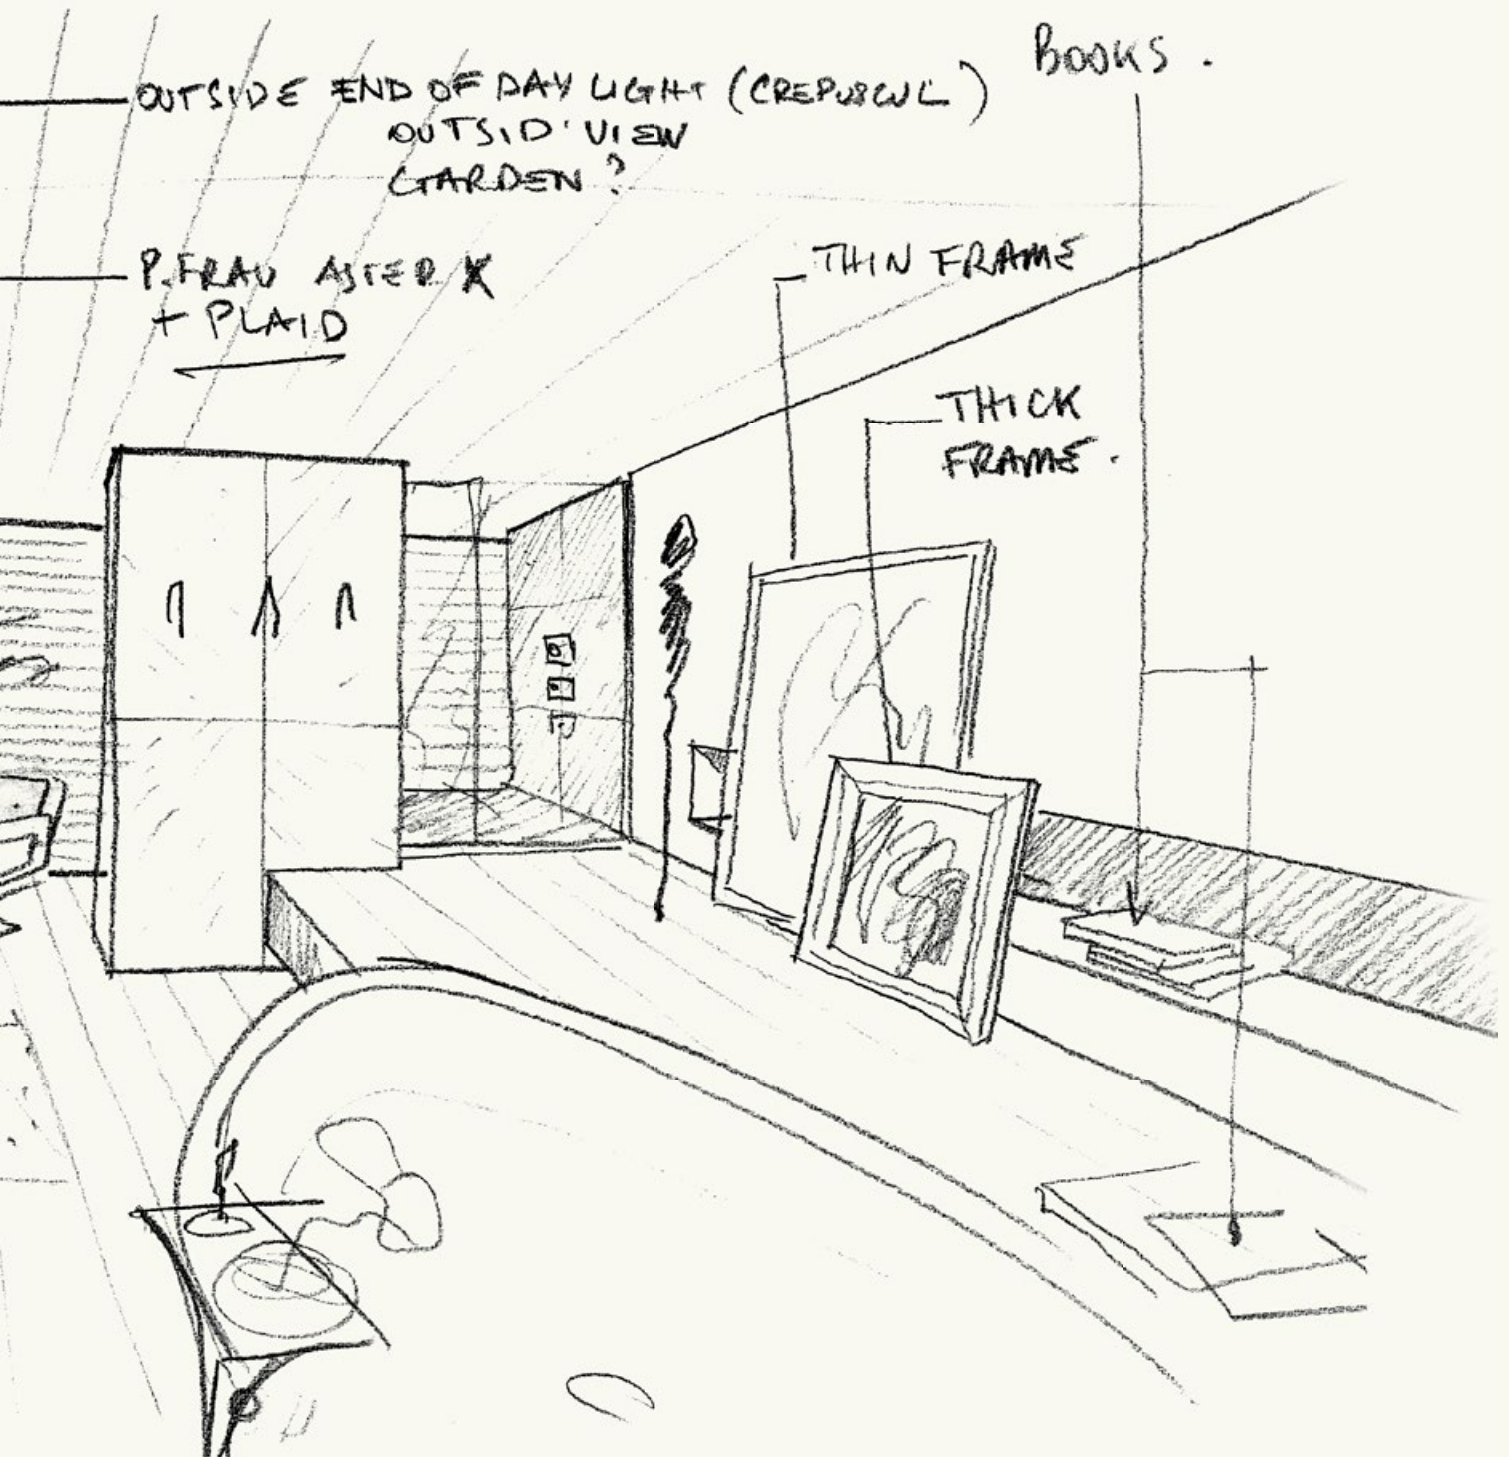

During the design process, the vision of the dream bathroom develops into a harmonious work that combines architecture, materials, lighting and bathroom products.

All the creative partners that work with Axor think beyond the actual product and its pure functionality for personal hygiene purposes. Through discussions between the designers and architects, Axor develops different concepts for the room and its use.

► The bathroom layout: from quiet zones to the use of natural materials through to small, homely details such as candles, lamps and picture frames.

LIGHT + CANDLES

Does a dream bathroom have to be large? "Not at all" insists Philippe Grohe in contradiction of the prevailing opinion that designer bathrooms cannot be created without a sizeable room. "It is not the size of the bathroom that determines the quality, but the basic elements that convey the idea of the room concept." The designers' central room and usage concepts can also be realised in small rooms and thus consider people's highly individual needs. There is good reason why most of the creative minds Axor choose to work with are also architects or interior designers, they work with Axor to develop solutions and planning aids for both large and small areas.

NATURE-INSPIRED DESIGN – FROM MIXERS TO TOWEL RACKS.

3 GALETS.

◀ Jean-Marie Massaud creates harmony between organic lines and geometric shapes.

► Nature-inspired design: Axor Massaud quotes organic shapes from nature. A waterfall from the wash basin, a branching tree, stones.

In Jean-Marie Massaud's idea of the perfect bathroom, the resident brings the experience of nature into the home. In this regard, the designer first designs the room and then, in a second stage introduces the products whose design complements the idea of the nature-inspired room. The complete bathroom collection has therefore been designed in the characteristic organic style: pebbles, branches, logs and grass inspire an extraordinary collection. The body of the most striking product, the single lever mixer, resembles a blade of grass. Together with the archetypal shelf, the mixer becomes a functional sculpture. In addition to the mixer, wash basin and bath tub, nature has also provided the inspiration for the accessories. Axor has developed a vanity box, candlestick, soap dish, vase, toothbrush tumbler and towel holder in line with the French designer's sketches and desires. The towel holder cites Massaud's philosophy as a branching tree, the vase celebrates the ritual use of water and the box and the candlestick resemble pebbles that would caress the hand.

In the Axor WaterDream, Massaud manifested the philosophy that a mixer's technical aspects should be hidden in the background. He moves away from pure control units while also wanting to provide an additional benefit. So what does a mixer look like if it is more than just a tap?

“What Massaud presented to us”, commented Philippe Grohe, “was absolutely futuristic and a little crazy.” But most of all, it was simply brilliant. Axor therefore did everything it could to turn his idea into a reality. “To make the water flow quietly and smoothly out of the mixer's spout, we had to completely re-design the interior workings of a mixer”, Horst Flieger, Head of the Hansgrohe Research and Development department, remembers. “Creating the optimum spray pattern was extremely challenging.” To create this elegant water jet, the experts at the Hansgrohe spray laboratory had to incorporate highly sophisticated technology into the flat plate. The result is clear: a mixer from which a beautiful waterfall flows; a particularly pleasant experience that uses little water.

▲ The designer Jean-Marie Massaud and the Axor development team were involved in intensive discussions for months on end. They regularly met for coordination meetings. After a development period of more than three years, Axor Massaud was finally launched on the market.

AXOR MASSAUD. FROM THE BLACK FOREST TO THE WHOLE WORLD.

Design is not the only thing that shines. Every mixer and every shower is based on the roots of the Hansgrohe company, the demands of an innovative global player and a commitment to ensuring the best quality and German manufacture.

The designer brand's specially designated plant is located in the heart of Hansgrohe's head office site. The Axor plant in Schiltach is one of five production sites in Germany. Here, German engineering meets years of tradition to create the more than 5,000 different products in the Axor collections. Workmanship marked by design and technology.

A brief glance at the production processes quickly shows onlookers that the plant does not manufacture mass-made products. In the two-floor hall, employees work on the designer products in several shifts. It takes a great deal of skill and expertise to turn the designers' visions into reality.

Their high requirements give rise to many different production stages. For example, these include precisely casting and cutting the mixers or subjecting the square-edged surfaces to even more intensive processing to ensure that they are optimally chrome-plated. The moulding blank is refined like a raw diamond in many individual stages until the final desired aesthetics are achieved. Even the base of the Axor Massaud mixer is hand-polished to a brilliant shine.

◀ Axor Massaud

On first glance at the finished product, the laborious manufacturing process is not evident. The designer item undergoes numerous individual stages and quality controls before it finds its place in an Axor Massaud bathroom.

◀ The start of an Axor Massaud mixer: a raw and inconspicuous brass bar, the raw material melts in the furnace at almost 1,000 degrees. The liquid metal now takes on its typical form.

▲ The route into the polishing department: the as yet unrefined mixer is polished by hand. To ensure that the surface has an impressive shine, all flat surfaces and edges are manually smoothed.

◀ The mixer is placed in an electrolytic immersion bath: the body is still made from brass. In one of the most modern galvanic systems, Axor Massaud now receives a brilliantly shiny chrome layer that ensures that the mixer remains hard-wearing and durable. To this end, it bathes in several galvanic baths for up to an hour.

▼ A single Axor Massaud mixer comprises almost 30 individual components. In the end assembly department, the specialised Axor Massaud employees put all the parts together to create the finished product: the hoses and the cartridge - known as the mixer's „motor“ - disappear into the body, the complete spray former is screwed into the metal plate and the handle is adjusted. No product leaves the factory on its worldwide travels without first being tested for leaks and an optimum spray pattern.

“WATER IS AN ELIXIR OF LIFE. IT THEREFORE DESERVES OUR FULL RESPECT AND CONSIDERATION.”

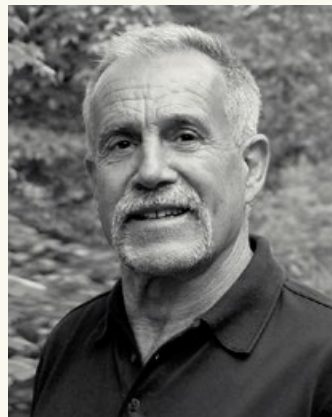

KLAUS GROHE

Jean-Marie Massaud’s philosophy of “nature-inspired design” is based on the idea of harmony between man, water and space. However, the interaction of design, technology and the careful use of our resources shapes every Axor project. In this regard, we value the precious commodities of water and energy. It is no wonder that this is also why the designers chose to work with Axor.

It is most likely our location in the Black Forest that teaches Hansgrohe to respect nature, on which we have always been reliant. It is therefore extremely natural for us to use the elements of water and energy responsibly. In fact, Hansgrohe has always regarded itself as a crusader of environmental protection - long before “sustainability” became a corporate buzz word.

The company was one of the first in the sector to promote resource-conserving technologies. Sustainability is a central topic that covers multiple aspects, including ecological, economical and social responsibility. A bathroom in which people should enjoy a sense of wellbeing for more than 20 years has high demands in terms of sustainability: a design that will outlive all fashion trends, durable materials and excellent innovative strength in matters of quality and technology.

► Klaus Grohe, son of the company founder and longstanding Chairman of the Executive and Supervisory Boards, was one of the first people in the industry to promote low-consumption water systems.

EXAMPLES OF OUR GREEN COMMITMENT:

- 1987 — Hansgrohe develops the first water-saving shower, which uses 50% less water than previous showers.
- 1993 — Hansgrohe puts into operation Germany's largest photovoltaic plant and produces its own solar power.
- 1994 — Hansgrohe generates its own electricity from its solar tower in the Offenburg plant and is a pioneer in eco-architecture.
- 2001 — The Pontos grey water recycling system treats shower and bath water, making it reusable, for example for flushing a toilet.
- 2008 — The first Hansgrohe water symposium takes place. Experts, scientists and practitioners examine a broad range of water-related topics in lectures and workshops.
- 2009 — Eco-Smart technology reduces the water consumption of all Axor mixers from 7 to 5 litres per minute through a pressure-independent flow limiter.
- 2010 — Axor forum in Kochi, India, on the topic "The added value of design with regard to sustainability" with the designer Jean-Marie Massaud as a guest speaker.
- 2012 — Axor Starck Organic with innovative mixer shower jet, which consumes an economical 3.5 | water per minute

TOP OF THE WORLD

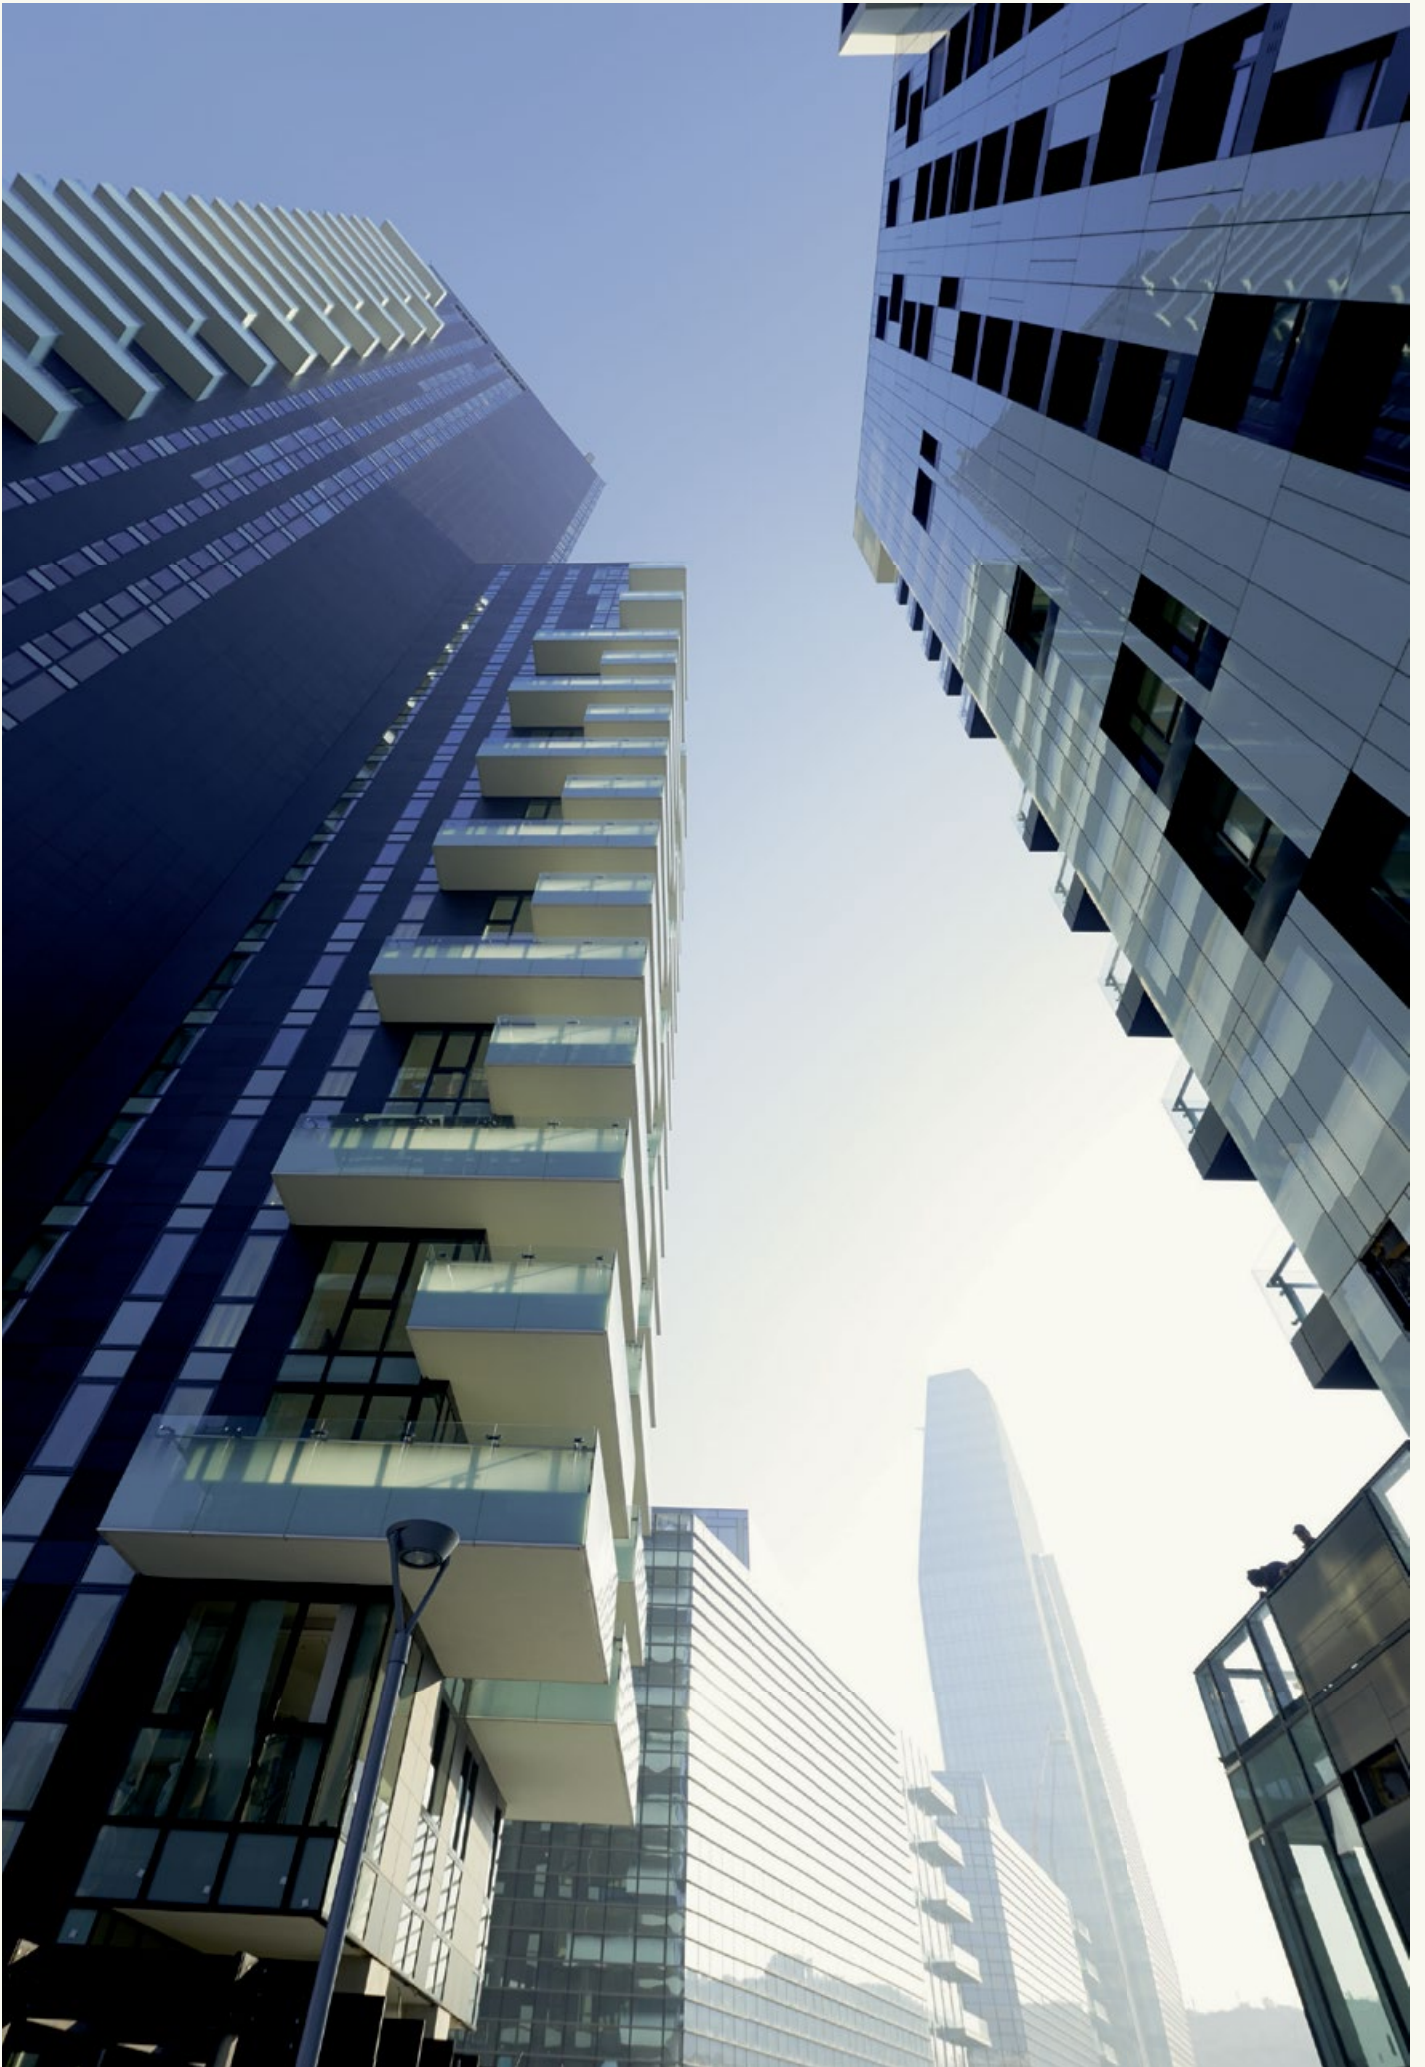

For many years, Axor collections have been incorporated into outstanding architectural projects all over the world. Truly impressive architecture for everyone's enjoyment. Types of properties that could not be more different, yet that all have several things in common: a high demand for quality, innovative designs and a respectful use of water. Axor is therefore equally at home in outstanding office buildings, luxurious high-sea yachts, exclusive private apartments and many other international projects. Private building owners find special solutions for creating their own individual bathroom experiences, while the exclusivity of the design and the intelligent use of water are often decisive factors for public building owners and architects.

PORTA NUOVA RESIDENZ MILAN/ITALY

- Architects: Arquitectonica, Miami, USA, Caputo Partnership, Milan, Italy
- Interior designers: Antonio Citterio Patricia Viel & Partners, Coima Image, Milan, Italy, Dolce Vita Homes, Edmonton, Canada
- Collections: Axor Citterio, Axor Citterio M, Axor Uno², Axor Starck, Axor Montreux

The major urban construction project on ex-industrial brownfield land is becoming the new skyline of Milan. A 290,000 metre square urban area is springing up, designed to cater to residents' living and working requirements. Sustainability is also central to the development of the high-rise apartment buildings Aria, Solaria and Solea: Not only does the 143-metre high Solaria, the tallest residential building in Milan, and its smaller companions offer a breathtaking view from the Cathedral to the Alps, they are also absolutely resplendent, featuring space utilisation concepts constructed to the latest standards. Exclusive interiors and bathrooms steeped in timeless, simple elegance are offered in four furnishing styles. Each one matching the diverse styles of the Axor collections.

HOTEL MANDARIN ORIENTAL BARCELONA/SPAIN

- Architect: Carlos Ferrater, Barcelona/Spain
- Interior designer: Patricia Urquiola, Milan/Italy
- Collection: Axor Urquiola
- Rooms: 98

The Mandarin Oriental hotel is located on the elegant Passeig de Gràcia shopping street, just a stone's throw away from Gaudí's famous Casa Batlló. Born in Spain, the award-winning designer Patricia Urquiola uses her interior design concept to highlight the Asian roots of the Hong Kong hotel group and reinterprets the luxurious oasis with her European perspective. Her characteristic style mix can be seen in every corner: abstract flowers blossom on an orange silk rug, gold leaf clouds adorn the ceilings and golden grilles resemble the wrought-iron gates of Barcelona. The Axor Urquiola collection harmoniously blends into bathrooms.

PARKROYAL ON PICKERING SINGAPORE

- Architects and interior designers: WOHA, Singapore
- Collection: Axor Urquiola
- Rooms: 367
- Green area: 15,000 m²

This award-winning project, often referred to as a "hotel in a garden", is a paradigm of green architecture. Each room looks out onto lush greenery: either the garden terraces or nearby Hong Lim Park. Collected rainwater covers the water requirements. Exclusively natural products or recycled materials are used in the bathrooms. So the mixers from Axor Urquiola, which look just like they evolved naturally, integrate perfectly into the bathroom environment.

VILLA MAGNOLIA MOUGINS/FRANCE

- Architects and interior designers: Sotyrys Pantopulos and Aleksander Pantopulos, digital effect design studio, Krakow, Poland
- Collections: Axor Bouroullec, Axor Massaud, Axor Urquiola, Axor Citterio M, Axor Starck, Axor Starck X

Mougins is a small medieval town near Nice in the South of France and was once a retreat for artists and prominent figures such as Picasso, Édith Piaf or Jacques Brel. The Villa Magnolia is situated on a hill among pine trees and cypresses, covering an area of 1,000 square metres, and features a patio, garden, swimming pool, and every luxury you can think of - modern yet classic. The façade's white sandstone and exotic Okoumé wood give the Villa a unique aesthetic charm. The nine bathrooms were each inspired by the bathroom concepts of different designers, including Antonio Citterio, Patricia Urquiola and Jean-Marie Massaud.

W HOTEL TAIPEI/TAIWAN

- Interior designer: GA Design International, London/UK
- Collection: Axor Citterio
- Rooms: 405

The W hotel, with its ultra-modern urban chic, has been attracting design fans from around the world since 2011. Many of the 405 rooms and suites offer views of one of the tallest buildings in the world, the Taipei 101. The semi-open bathrooms, some of which offer views of the Asian metropolis skyline, set new standards when it comes to luxury. Axor Citterio stylishly rounds off the high quality feel.

THE CHEDI ANDERMATT/ SWITZERLAND

- Architects and interior designers: Dennison International Architects & Planners, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia
- Collections: Axor Starck, Axor Starck X
- Rooms: 169

The small community of Andermatt is an alpine idyll: surrounded by snow-capped peaks and located at the foot of the Gotthard Pass, the place has retained its enchanting atmosphere. The new luxurious alpine resort is an ingenious combination of alpine architectural culture and modern wellness. The five-metre tall glass cheese humidor in the restaurant is particularly eye-catching. Bathroom icons from Axor Starck and Axor Starck X contribute to the classic, timeless design.

RESTAURANT GEIST COPENHAGEN/ DENMARK

- Architect and interior designer: SPACE Architecture & Interior Design, Copenhagen, Denmark
- Collections: Axor Bouroullec and Axor Citterio

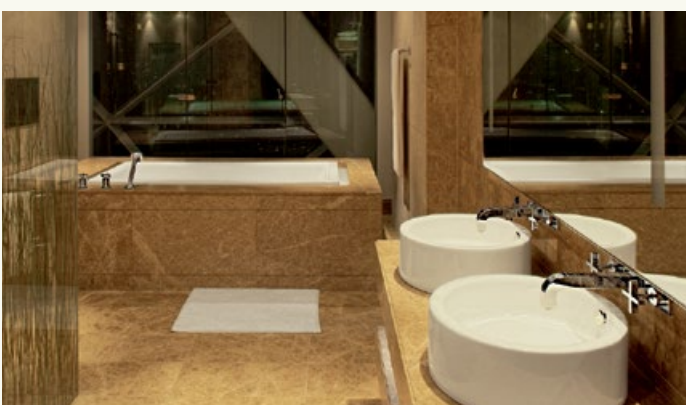

These days, Michelin star chef Bo Bech's restaurant is one of the culinary highlights of the Danish capital. Here we find "new Nordic" cuisine set amidst an imaginative ambience, with a dash of Scandinavian nonchalance. Perfect for the hip lifestyle: the Axor Bouroullec collection in the purposefully dimly lit washrooms. The award-winning restaurant chef offers the highest standards of quality in the kitchen too. The Axor Citterio slimline mixer is used here.

HYATT CAPITAL GATE ABU DHABI/UAE

- Architects: Robert Matthew, Johnson-Marshall & Partners (RMJM), Abu Dhabi, UAE
- Interior designers: RPW London/UK
- Collection: Axor Citterio
- Rooms: 189

Another outstanding feature in the desert state: the most steeply inclined building in the world is located in Abu Dhabi. The Capital Gate Tower protrudes 160 metres above the desert and, at an 18° incline, leans 14° more than its counterpart in Pisa, Italy. The upper 16 floors are the Hyatt's new, exclusive address. The 189 rooms and suites of the business hotel have floor-to-ceiling windows, which offer a spectacular view of the skyline of Abu Dhabi and the Persian Gulf. The individual and exclusive character of the Axor Citterio collection complements the luxurious and contemporary style of the hotel in its bathrooms too.

HOW ABOUT EVEN MORE INDIVIDUALITY?

Designing a distinctive bathroom has never been easier. With its comprehensive range of unique designer items and the exclusive service offered by the Axor manufacturing department, Axor can provide that ultimate personal touch. Customers can take advantage of special services that offer plenty of scope for creating their own designs. The manufacturing department strives to deliver exceptional products, with reliability, longevity and quality as standard. Axor Manufaktur's products rely on craftsmanship, rather than assembly-line production. The role and skill of the craftsman is key, as it is their conscientious eye for detail that ensures every product is flawless, no matter how bespoke it is. In the Axor manufacturing department, special requests are literally in the best hands: the same Axor manufacturing department employee looks after the product, from receipt of the order right through to delivery.

CHROME CAN ALSO BE GOLD PLATED.

Axor Manufaktur

In the Axor manufacturing department, we readily refine Axor products to meet the specific individual requirements of our customers. As well as the popular chrome products, the exclusive finishes are particularly aesthetically appealing in bathrooms. We achieve this look by subjecting the chrome products to an additional finishing treatment. The chrome products are refined in the Axor manufacturing department's PVD chamber by being given a further metallic finish which is much more robust. This means that it is more resistant to scratches and cleaning agents, and less susceptible to corrosion.

TWELVE EXCLUSIVE FINISHES IN A PRECIOUS METAL OPTIC.

We would be happy to implement other special finishes on request.

e.g. Axor LampShower in polished bronze

e.g. Axor Carlton in polished gold-optic

e.g. Axor Citerio in polished black chrome

e.g. Axor Urquiola in polished nickel

e.g. Axor Montreux in polished red gold

PVD technology (Physical Vapor Deposition) is a modern, environmentally-friendly method of producing special finishes. Zircon is evaporated by an arc at several hundred degrees Celsius in the high-vacuum chamber. The steam blends with nitrogen to form an exceptionally hard coating, which settles on the mixer.

CAN WE HELP YOU WITH ANYTHING ELSE?

Axor Manufaktur

Sometimes an elaborate product or sophisticated collection requires a small modification in order to make your bathroom as individual as you are. The Axor manufacturing team customises the collections with great attention to detail and with personal support, entirely in accordance with your personal ideas and requirements. This can mean special finishes or even specially shortened or extended mixers. Or it could involve Cool Start, or even a special cartridge which limits the flow rate. If you would like the products to be finished with the company logo or initials, you can consult the experts in the Axor manufacturing team, who will fulfil your special requirement with handcraft quality.

* This fitting features a flood jet just which emphasises the natural aspect of water as a vital element for life. As a flood jet involves a spray to which no water is added, we recommend using the Axor Massaud wash bowls and built-in wash basins or extra-deep wash basins to reduce any risk of splashing.

Axor Starck Organic

FOLLOW YOUR HEAD AND YOUR HEART.

Axor Starck Organic is a collection that appeals to heart and intellect in equal measure. Philippe Starck brings design and technology, ecology and economy, together in harmony. We can enjoy a particularly sensual water experience using the unique mixer shower jet, and save water too. The revolutionary operating concept, with separate temperature and water volume control, makes us more aware of our consumption of water. The unique, organic minimalist design shapes the entire collection, from the mixers to the accessories.

Nature

The mixer was stripped of anything unnecessary.
Its essence is in its organic, minimalist design.

Axor Starck Organic is characterised by soft shapes and flowing transitions. Like the natural world that it is modelled on, the collection prospers with only the bare minimum. Handles integrate aesthetically into mixer bodies and blend into them visually - a picture of harmony from every angle, whatever position the handle is in. Axor Starck Organic is a harmonious bathroom collection made up of more than 40 pieces, and is the perfect addition to any bathroom environment.

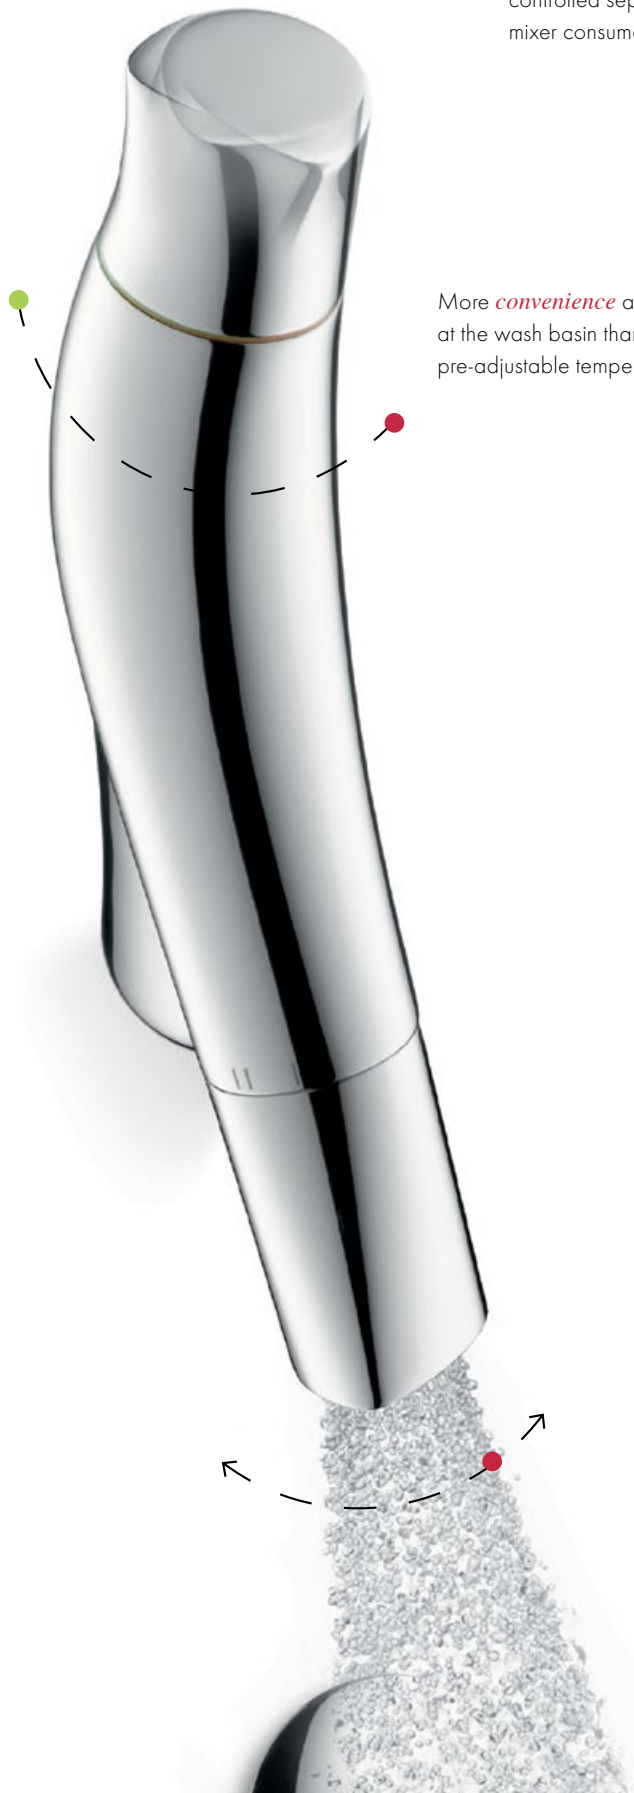

Organic

Minimal

How pleasant can water feel? Unbelievably luxurious with minimal water consumption.

Axor Starck Organic offers a sensual water experience. The new, energising mixer shower jet bathes the hands lavishly. The two handle basin mixer, where water volume and temperature are controlled separately, offers us the opportunity to use water responsibly. Yet at the same time, the mixer consumes less water than conventional mixers - namely, an economical 3.5 l/min.

More convenience and safety at the wash basin thanks to the pre-adjustable temperature

Two click-in positions on the water volume control: 3.5 l/min (Normal) and 5 l/min (Boost) - as well as all interim volumes

Voluminous
3.5 l/

The innovative mixer shower jet creates the feeling of a greater volume of water, but in actual fact involves less water consumption.

min

The powerful, energy-packed mixer design blends harmoniously into a wide variety of bathroom environments.

Wash bowl: Palomba (Laufen)

Stunning contrasts: the flowing shape of the mixer comes together with the minimalist counter top wash bowl.

62
63

Axor Starck Organic blends perfectly with the different wash basins - whether they are shallow or deep wash bowls, wall-mounted or built-in wash basins or hand basins. Here, for example, the organic forms of the mixer and the basin merge together harmoniously.

Thanks to the combination of organic and geometric shapes, the exposed and concealed products from Axor Starck Organic offer multiple design options for the shower.

The thermostat technology offered by the exposed mixers offer pleasurable shower experiences with added convenience.

65

The floor-standing bath filler with integrated hand shower complements the range for free-standing bath tubs. Thanks to its organic, minimalist design, it looks great with the broadest range of bath tub shapes.

In keeping with the collection's design, the branch-like exposed bath tub thermostat also harmoniously blends into the bathing area.

Axor Urquiola

Awakening
your SENSES.

A bathroom collection that awakens our senses. Patricia Urquiola loves mixing different STYLES. Each individual element possesses its own charm and combines with the other items in the room to create a homely space.

Old and new merge together wonderfully. Soft FORMS that merge with asymmetries and large surface areas. Mixers that look like they evolved naturally. The archetypal shape of the wash bowl and bath tub makes them resemble old-style wash tubs.

Axor Urquiola is a sensual, imaginative collection, down to the very finest DETAIL.

74
75

EVERYONE should have their own personal wash basin. For example, this wash bowl and mixer from the Axor Urquiola collection.

A fusion of styles at the wash basin: thanks to its rich, sensuous shape, the Axor Urquiola mixer can be combined with any form of wash basin: square, round, simple or elaborate.

PLANTS play an important role for the Spanish-born designer. They offer privacy and enhance QUALITY
OF LIFE.

78
79

NOSTALGIC bathing
in a modern WASH TUB.

The BATHROOM that
awakens our SENSES.

Axor Starck

THE AESTHETICS OF MINIMALISM.

In today's hectic world, people are yearning more and more for tranquillity and simplicity. The Axor Starck bathroom collection focuses on the basics, the enjoyment of water. The principle of minimalism can be seen in the basic shapes and clear functions. There are no distractions. A bathroom collection, designed by Philippe Starck, that will never go out of fashion. Like a fountain that springs up from the depths of the earth, we can draw from Axor Starck and refresh our bodies and minds in a bathroom that offers tranquillity and relaxation.

The discovery of simplicity: the mixer's shape is inspired by a simple water pump.

The shower column with plate overhead shower has minimalist traits: clear, functional, timeless.

In designing the dual handle mixer, Philippe Starck took inspiration from two interflowing waterways.

A place of retreat from our hectic world. Homely accents such as wooden floorboards, an open fire and the bath tub, which is not confined to a wall or corner, make the bathroom a place of wellbeing.

Axor Starck is available with two different handle options: a completely cylindrical version and the cylindrical-organic version with a feather shaped handle.

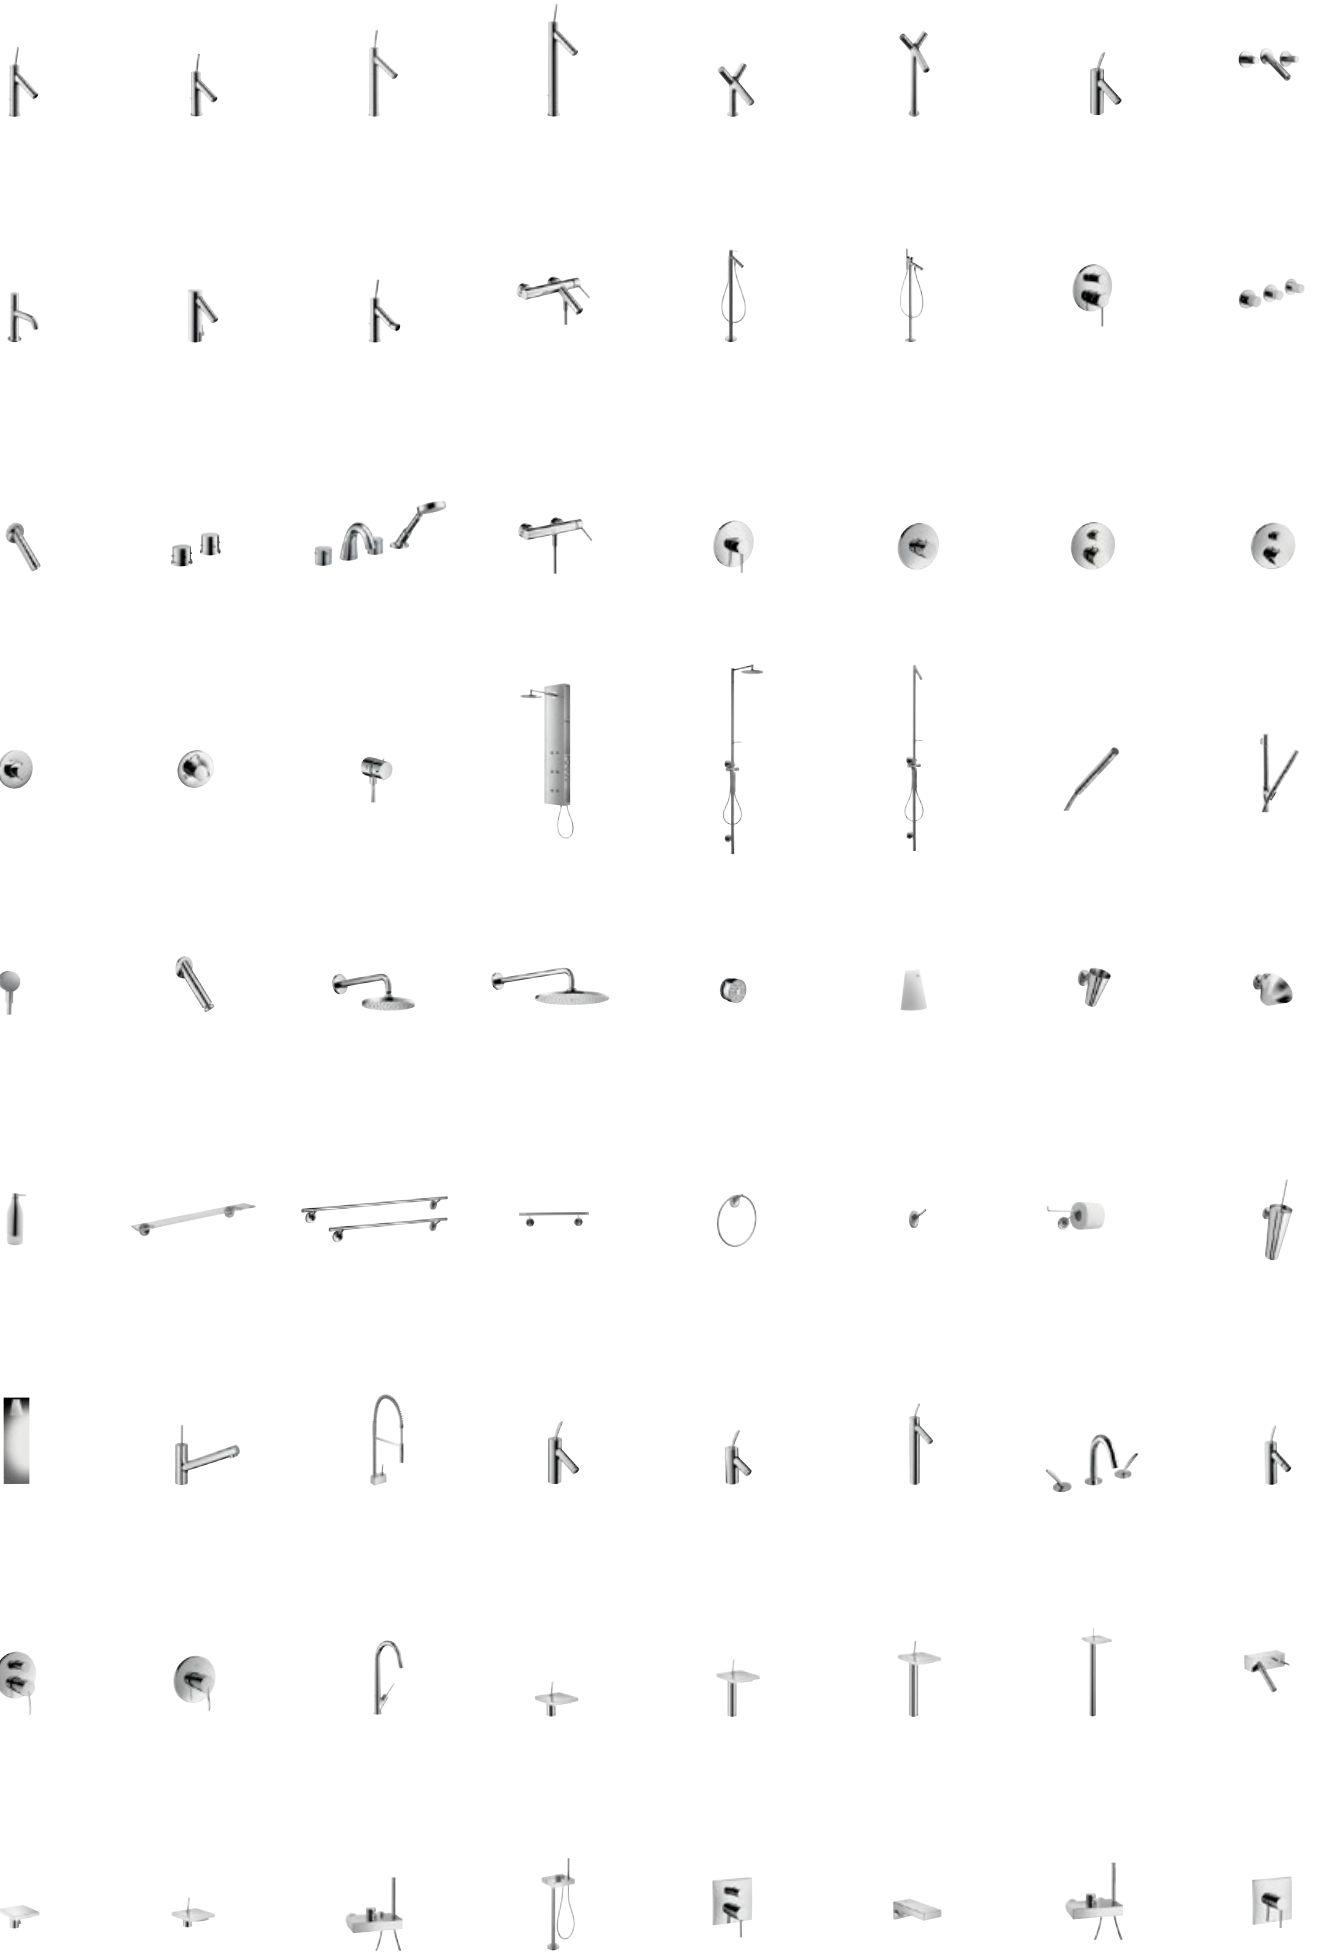

Axor Starck X has an almost sculptural design language. The square plate seems to weightlessly hover above the wash basin.

The Waterwall beautifully integrates all key shower elements: mixers and shelves, a plate overhead shower and side showers.

Axor Bouroullec

EVERYTHING FLOWS.

Axor Bouroullec is an extremely elegant collection. The organic, minimalist design of Ronan & Erwan Bouroullec remains in the background at all times. The understated design language of the more than 60 products that make up this collection makes it particularly versatile. The products blend in harmoniously with any style. They constitute a paradigm shift in universal design: the individual mixer elements can be positioned to suit requirements - to make it easy for children to use them, for example.

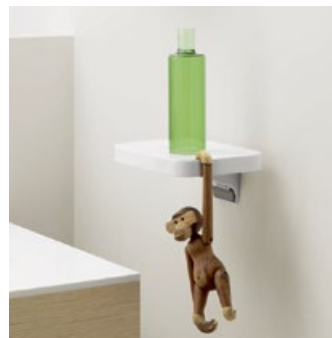

The understated design of the mixers from Axor Bouroullec means that they can be combined with all kinds of wash basin shapes and styles, offering numerous design options.

115

The wash basins in the Axor Bouroullec collection offer plenty of surface area thanks to their integrated shelves, which flow together with apparent ease. These are available as a built-in or wall-mounted version.

116

Shelves are a characteristic element of Axor Bouroullec. In the form of space-saving accessories for the wall or the washstand, as a mixer base or storage surface on the wash basin, or even as an exposed installation mixer, which can move through all bathroom areas.

Universal design: with two shelves, you have a choice as to where to place the mixer elements - to suit your own personal requirements.

The Axor Bouroullec Showerpipe featuring large plate overhead shower and integrated shelves offers space and convenient storage in the shower.

Axor Citterio M

ANTONIO CITTERIO

URBAN CHIC.

What does a bathroom collection inspired by modern city life look like? It reflects the fine art of timelessly modern design. Axor Citterio M is shaped by strikingly slender forms and an elegant overall appearance.

The 'M' stands for modernity, metropolis and Milan - the home city of the designer Antonio Citterio. A collection that fits perfectly into different lifestyles, with its unique ease, yet highly striking design.

AMETPROPOLI DOMODERNITÀ HIDROCHIC

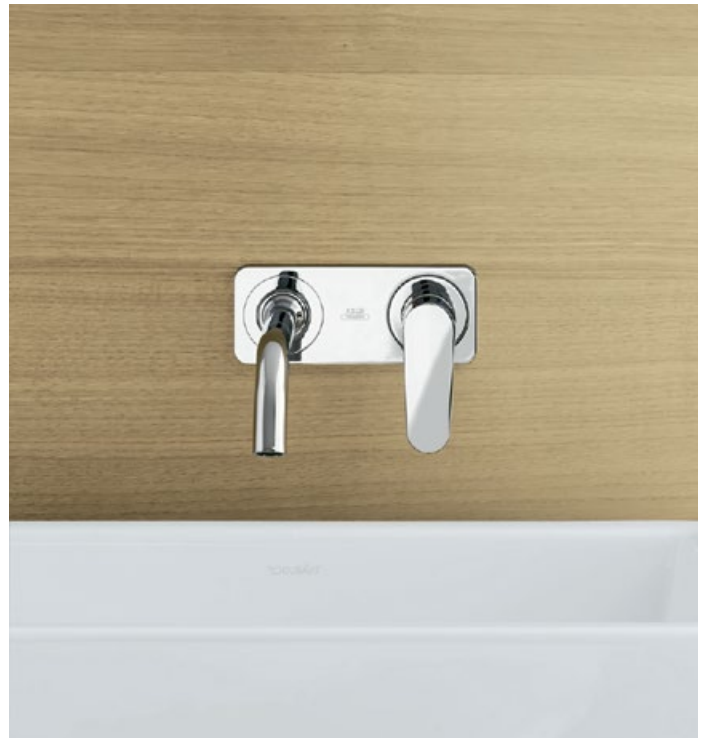

A modern bathroom interior featuring a large window with white curtains and a view of a city. A large, faceted, orange pendant light hangs from the ceiling. A white bathtub is positioned in front of the window. To the right, a vanity unit with a white sink and a chrome faucet is visible. The wall behind the vanity is covered in large, grey, textured tiles. A small, square, chrome showerhead is mounted on the wall. A black and white zigzag patterned rug is on the floor. A wooden cabinet with open shelves holds books and a stack of papers. A small table with a yellow chair is visible near the window.

Urban chic. Antonio
Citterio takes his inspiration from modern city life.
A bathroom collection
full of minimalism and elegance, clarity and
Italian charm.

132
133

The elegant, towering mixer is particularly suited to free-standing wash bowls.

134
135

The characteristic Citterio design is also found in the shower and the bath tub.

136
137

The star-shaped handle is exceptionally ergonomic. The shape is a combination of high-quality finishes on the upper side and smooth curves on the underside, so the handle fits snugly in your hand.

138

The star-shaped handle design is used across the entire bathroom collection - from the wash basin and the shower to the bath mixer.

The Axor Citterio M Showerpipe comes with three different spray types, an exposed thermostat and a hand shower.

Axor Uno²

THE CLASSIC MINIMALIST.

The understated style of this mixer collection is based on a clear, geometric design with high, slender basic forms. This makes it suitable for all bathroom environments and gives people room to express themselves. Axor Uno² was designed by Phoenix Design.

Timelessly modern cylindrical shapes - with high, slender spouts - are ideal for those who appreciate simplistic design.

Whether it's a two-handle mixer or a single lever mixer with striking bow-shaped handle, a simple wall version or high wash bowl version - Axor Uno² is perfect for all areas of the bathroom, and is always elegantly discreet.

150

Exposed and concealed versions in the distinct, understated style of Axor Uno² offer freedom of design for the bath tub as well.

LUXURY AT A SECOND GLANCE.

Antonio Citterio pays tribute to the element of water with a particularly classic and elegant collection. Axor Citterio enables us to truly enjoy the time we spend in the bathroom. With its precision-formed surfaces and edges and beautiful details, the richness of which becomes clear on second glance. In a bathroom in which living and personal hygiene are intentionally cultivated.

160

Axor Citterio mixers are characterised by their straight edges with hints of elegance and class. These features can be found in all mixer versions - from the single lever mixer to the classic 3-hole mixer.

162

Antonio Citterio designed the elegant, slender cross handles on the mixers in tribute to the Italian architectural style of the 1930s. The bath tub also stems from the Italian designer's pen.

Axor Carlton

A HOMAGE TO THE GOLDEN 20'S.

With its sweeping shapes, Axor Carlton is reminiscent of the days of the glamorous grand hotels of the 1920s. A nostalgic collection from Phoenix Design that is utterly timeless.

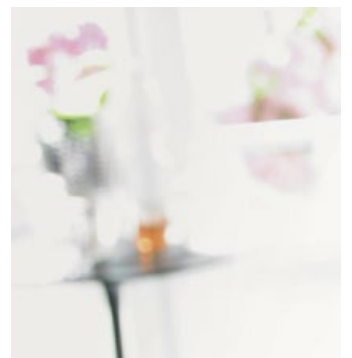

178
179

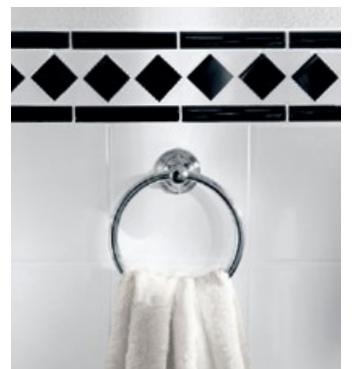

PHOENIX DESIGN

The opulent Axor Carlton mixer collection exudes a feeling of luxury - a three-hole variant for the wash basin, a nostalgic showerpipe, right down to the accessories.

Retro design with the comfort and convenience of a modern mixer.

Axor Montreux

188
189

TRADITION IN THE BATHROOM.

Axor Montreux is a homage to the famous spa resort on Lake Geneva. The authentic bathroom collection from Phoenix Design takes us back to the early 20th century and captures the Zeitgeist of the Belle Époque with its romantic spas.

Axor Montreux fits in perfectly in both traditional and modern bathroom environments. In every detail, the mixers invoke memories of traditional industrial design, with modern technology concealed inside. There are some charming bathroom accessories available to complement the stylish mixer collection.

One characteristic feature is the bridge mixer, which is authentically styled and modelled on its predecessor from the industrial era.

Axor ShowerCollection designed by Philippe Starck

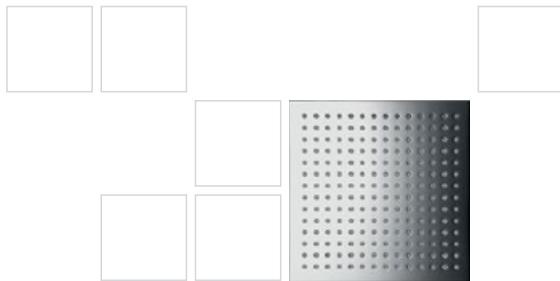

HAUTE COUTURE FOR THE SHOWER.

"Just mix it!" is the motto of the Axor ShowerCollection. The modular design can be used to transform the shower into a tailored-made spa. The simple, customisable system comprising shower heads, mixers and accessories provides almost endless design freedom. 12 x 12 cm squares can be freely combined to match the concepts that we envisage: horizontal or vertical, centred or asymmetrical, arranged freely or in groups - anything is possible. The Axor ShowerCollection was created in collaboration with Philippe Starck.

The individual functional modules such as the hand shower, side shower, valve and thermostat can be flexibly combined to form an intelligent shower system.

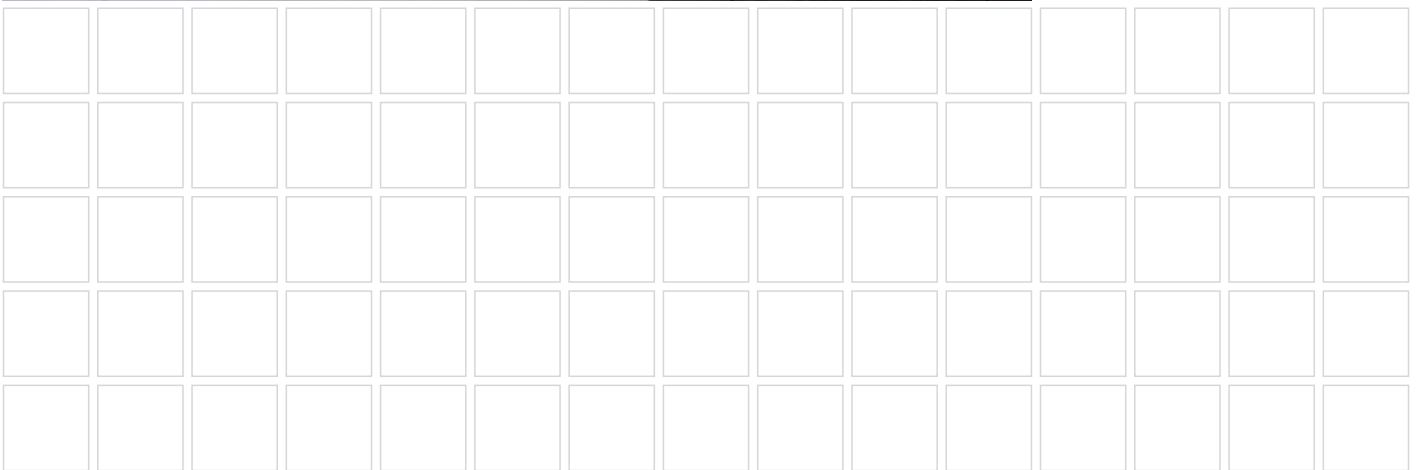

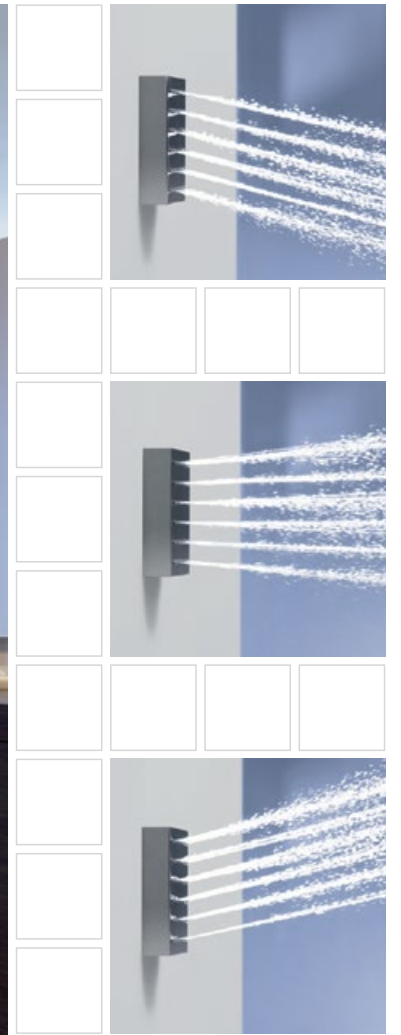

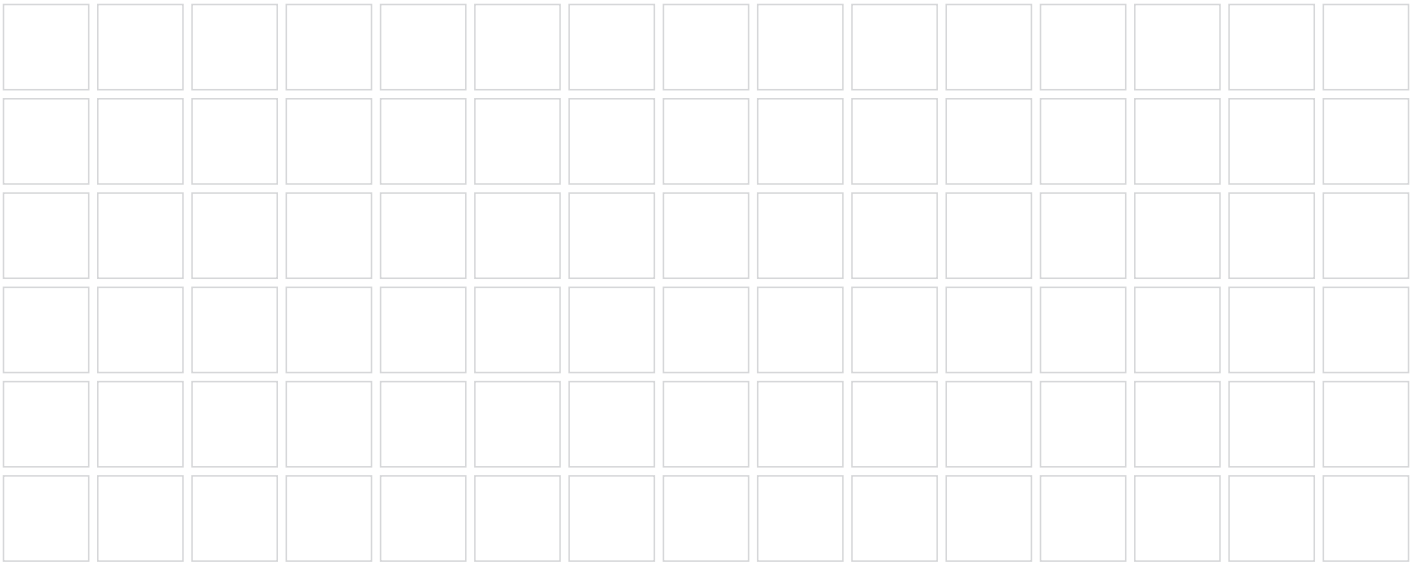

Haute Couture in the bathroom. The luxurious Axor ShowerHeaven overhead shower with three different jet types is the finishing touch for a perfect shower.

204
205

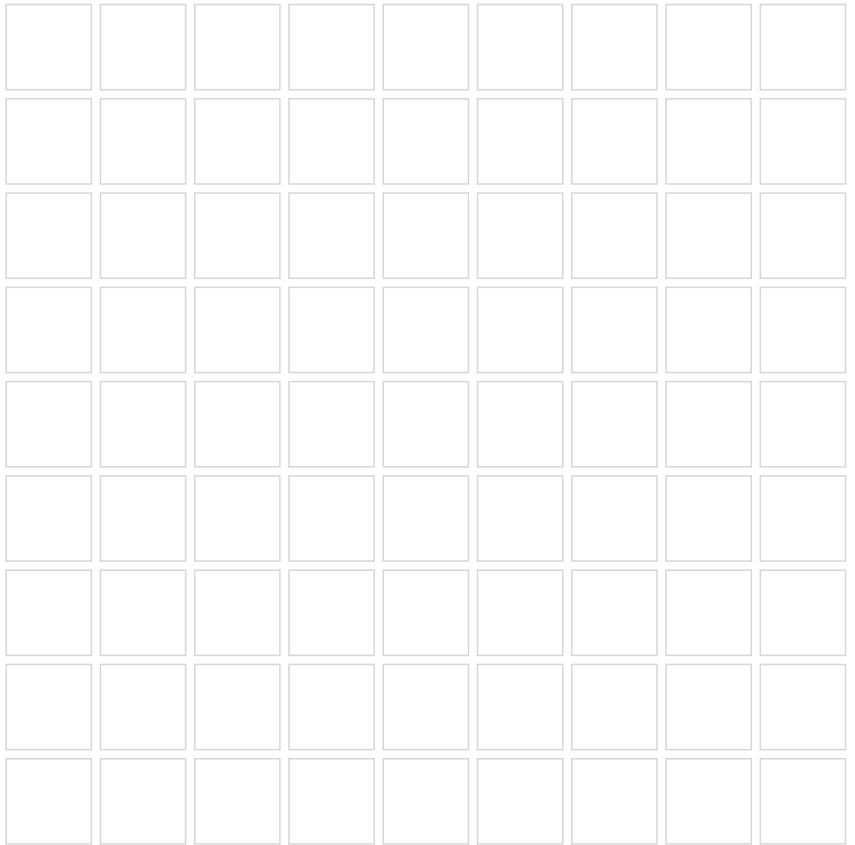

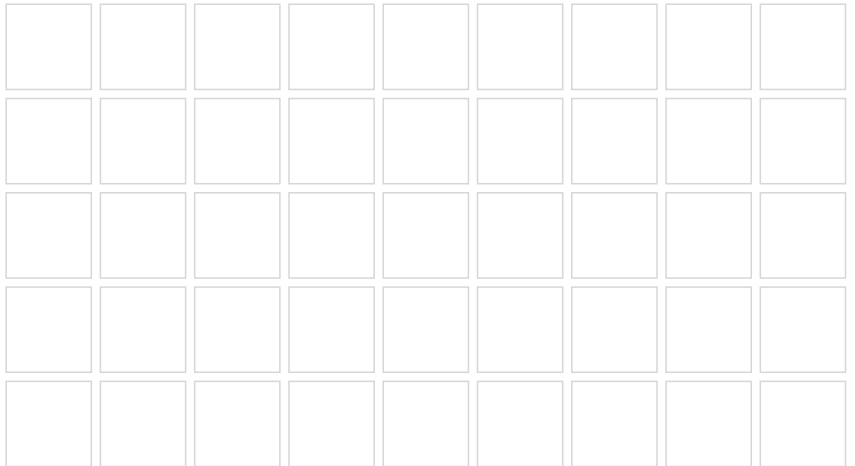

Convenience modules enhance the showering experience: from lighting to loudspeakers to shelf options.

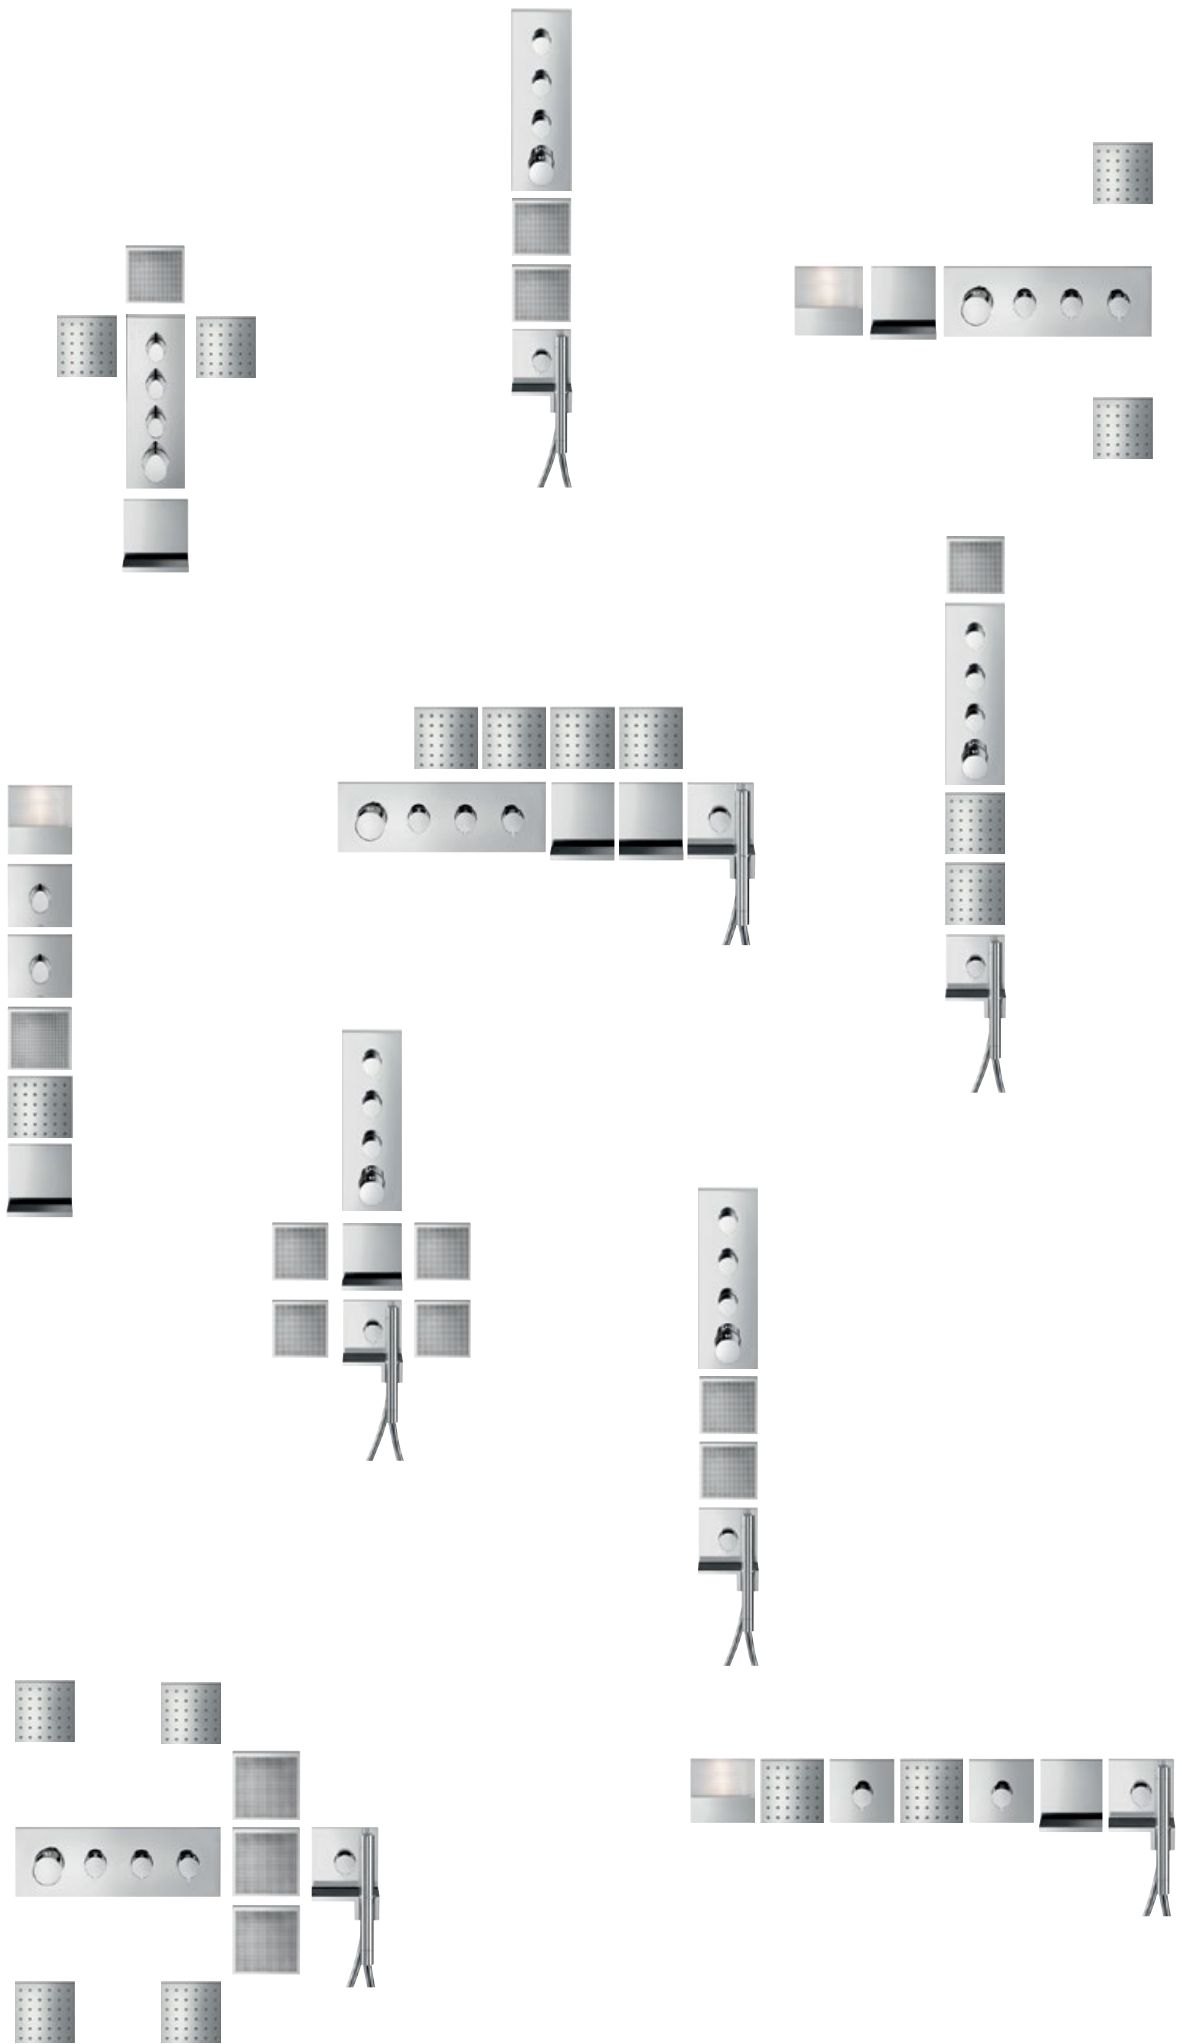

206
207

The waterfall spout is both a shelf area and a small spa. On the bath tub it is used for filling, in the shower the vitalising flood jet can be used for massaging the neck.

Axor Lamp Shower

The Axor LampShower designed by Nendo does away with the traditional boundaries between spaces in astounding fashion. The bathroom blends into the living area as though it were always so. At the same time, the Axor LampShower brings a homely character to the bathroom, and can be perfectly combined with shower and bathroom products from a range of different collections and styles.

217

Thanks to their universal character, Axor ShowerProducts designed by Front can be combined with many Axor collections and integrated into a range of environments - from renovated old buildings to modern loft apartments.

Axor Wash basins, bath tubs and furniture

Some of the Axor collections include wash basins, bath tubs and wash basin base units, as well as high-quality mixers. There are drop-in, counter-top and wall-mounted wash basin options, and bath tubs that are free-standing or built in. These were developed in collaboration with prestigious designers, and they can be naturally combined with mixers from the various bathroom collections.

Axor Electronics

Saving water and ensuring hygiene are key requirements in public and semi-public areas. The Axor electronic mixers can be used to add impressive design accents to high-class environments.

Their non-contact operation makes them hygienic: infrared sensor technology means that the water is automatically triggered by movement in front of the sensor, so water flows only when it is required. Intelligent electronics control the water consumption with an extremely short run-on time, sustainably protecting water resources.

* This fitting features a flood jet just which emphasises the natural aspect of water as a vital element for life. As a flood jet involves a spray to which air is not added, we recommend using an extra-deep wash basin to reduce any risk of splashing.

Haute couture design for ambitious chefs. Every Axor kitchen mixer is a designer piece, developed in collaboration with the Axor designers and designed to offer long-term satisfaction. The mixers set new standards in terms of functionality and quality – after all, the mixer is the most frequently used device in the kitchen; we use it up to 90 times a day. These icons for the sink unit offer high-end functionality – for example, hand sprays with several jet types or swivel ranges of up to 360 degrees.

Ergonomic high spouts with a large swivel range, handles that can be freely positioned and wall-mounted variants with telescopic extension all guarantee ample freedom of movement at the sink. The award-winning design produces a quality look. So the mixer itself becomes an integral part of the fun of cooking.

THERE ARE A WIDE RANGE OF OPPORTUNITIES TO MAKE YOUR OWN PERSONAL BATHROOM A REALITY. OUR AXOR BATHROOM INSPIRATIONS OFFER SMART IDEAS FOR DIVIDING UP ROOMS - BOTH LARGE AND SMALL. WE DEMONSTRATE HOW SPECIFIC MATERIALS, SOPHISTICATED LIGHTING, ACCESSORIES AND OTHER HOMELY ELEMENTS CAN ALSO HELP TO CREATE AESTHETIC EXPERIENCES.

MAKING THE BATHROOM MORE HOMELY

Natural materials, warm colours and a sense of open space all create a greater sensation of well-being in the bathroom. Well-thought-out light planning and matching shower products help create the cosy, relaxing atmosphere. This room concept was inspired by Nendo's WaterDream and implemented by Fön Design, Schramberg, Germany.

The room within a room is transformed into a place of tranquillity and contemplation:

- Bathroom cube within the living area separates the bathroom from the rest of the living space, yet integrates it at the same time
- The platform and steps promote the sensation of a place of retreat
- The bathroom opens out into the living space with the aid of a floor-to-ceiling window, which offers views right through to the living area

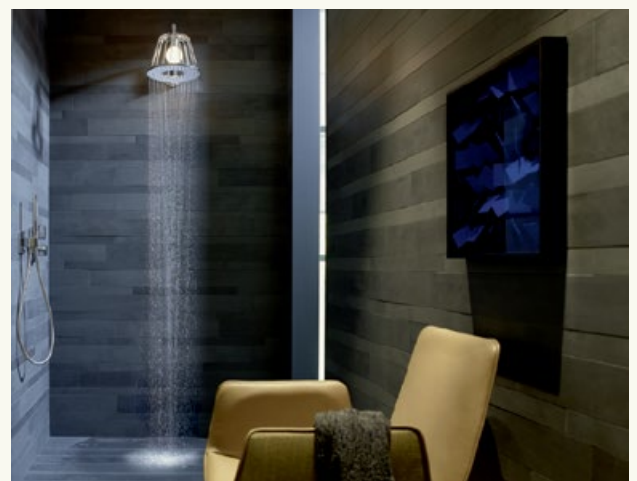

A well-thought-out lighting concept can also help to create a cosy atmosphere:

- Indirect lighting can be used for comforting ambient lighting, e.g. via circumferential light strips
- Set the light focus, e.g. using a shower product with integrated atmospheric light

A welcoming style of interior design invites you to spend more time in the bathroom:

- Natural materials such as wood and stone
- Warm, dark natural shades
- Personal accessories such as shelves, pictures, armchairs

DIVIDING INTO FEEL-GOOD AND FUNCTIONAL AREAS

HOW CAN A BATHROOM BE TRANSFORMED INTO AN ELEGANT FEEL-GOOD SPACE?

With relaxation and well-being the overriding incentives, the bathroom needs to offer a better quality of life, it should be the ideal place to spend time. It is moving away from being a purely functional room, where all that is required is getting clean, and moving more towards being a source of relaxation, a place where the soul is also cleansed. Dividing the bathroom into functional and feel-good areas creates a sense of architectural calm and allows us to experience the richness of water. Transparent doors and large window fronts make for useful division and create a cosy ambience. Antonio Citterio has created this room concept using the Axor Citterio collection (pp. 160/161).

The spatial concept of the separate feel-good and functional areas can also be implemented with smaller floor plans:

The segmentation concept can be implemented easily in smaller areas. Transparent wall and door elements help with this. These divide the areas and help the room retain its sense of spaciousness.

Bathroom area: approx.
11.4 square metres

What other materials and accessories emphasise the elegant character of the bathroom?

The use of noble materials, such as black and white marble, gives the room a timeless elegance. Noble home accessories create a sophisticated ambience and give the bathroom that special effect - whether the floor plans are large or small.

THE FUSION OF BATHROOM AND BEDROOM

A RETREAT FOR MANY DIFFERENT PERSONALITIES

Opening up the bathroom to the bedroom creates free space that can be used in a variety of ways. The result is one spacious entity with fluent transitions – smoothly separated by a screen, which provides intimacy even with the opened-up space. A communicative space, providing a place where people can live side-by-side in harmony, yet at the same time offering an opportunity to retreat to somewhere private.

Separate areas within the bathroom cater to the individual needs of different personalities: Instead of the classic double wash basin, individually furnished wash basins facing each other provide the necessary privacy.

In the two separate bath tubs, each person can adjust the temperature to whatever is ideal for their personal taste – while still being able to communicate with the other person.

Plants play an important role in this feel-good bathroom: as a privacy screen and a feel-good stimulus.

Patricia Urquiola has implemented this fusion of bathroom and bedroom in her Axor Urquiola dream bathroom (pp. 80/81).

Filter area

The boundary between outside and inside is blurred by large windows and lots of plants.

Bathroom/living environment

Chill-out and relaxation area merge into a harmonious retreat.

Room dividers

A paravent serves as a privacy screen and constitutes the casual separation of bedroom and bathroom.

Bathroom area: approx.
40 square metres

Privacy

Two bath tubs and separate, individually furnished wash basins provide both intimacy and individuality, enabling both people to share the bathroom at the same time.

The fusion of bedroom and bathroom can also be implemented for small floor plans. The filter area incorporating the shower is flooded with natural light, and the plants give it the semblance of a conservatory. The paravent serves as a privacy screen with the added function of a radiator.

Bathroom area: approx.
16 square metres

Which aspects emphasise the nature of the retreat?

Plants

Foliage plants are a feel-good stimulus within the bathroom and the natural transition to the outside world.

Glass

Glass surfaces with graphical patterns serve as privacy screens. They also stimulate the imagination of the viewer and are playfully relaxing.

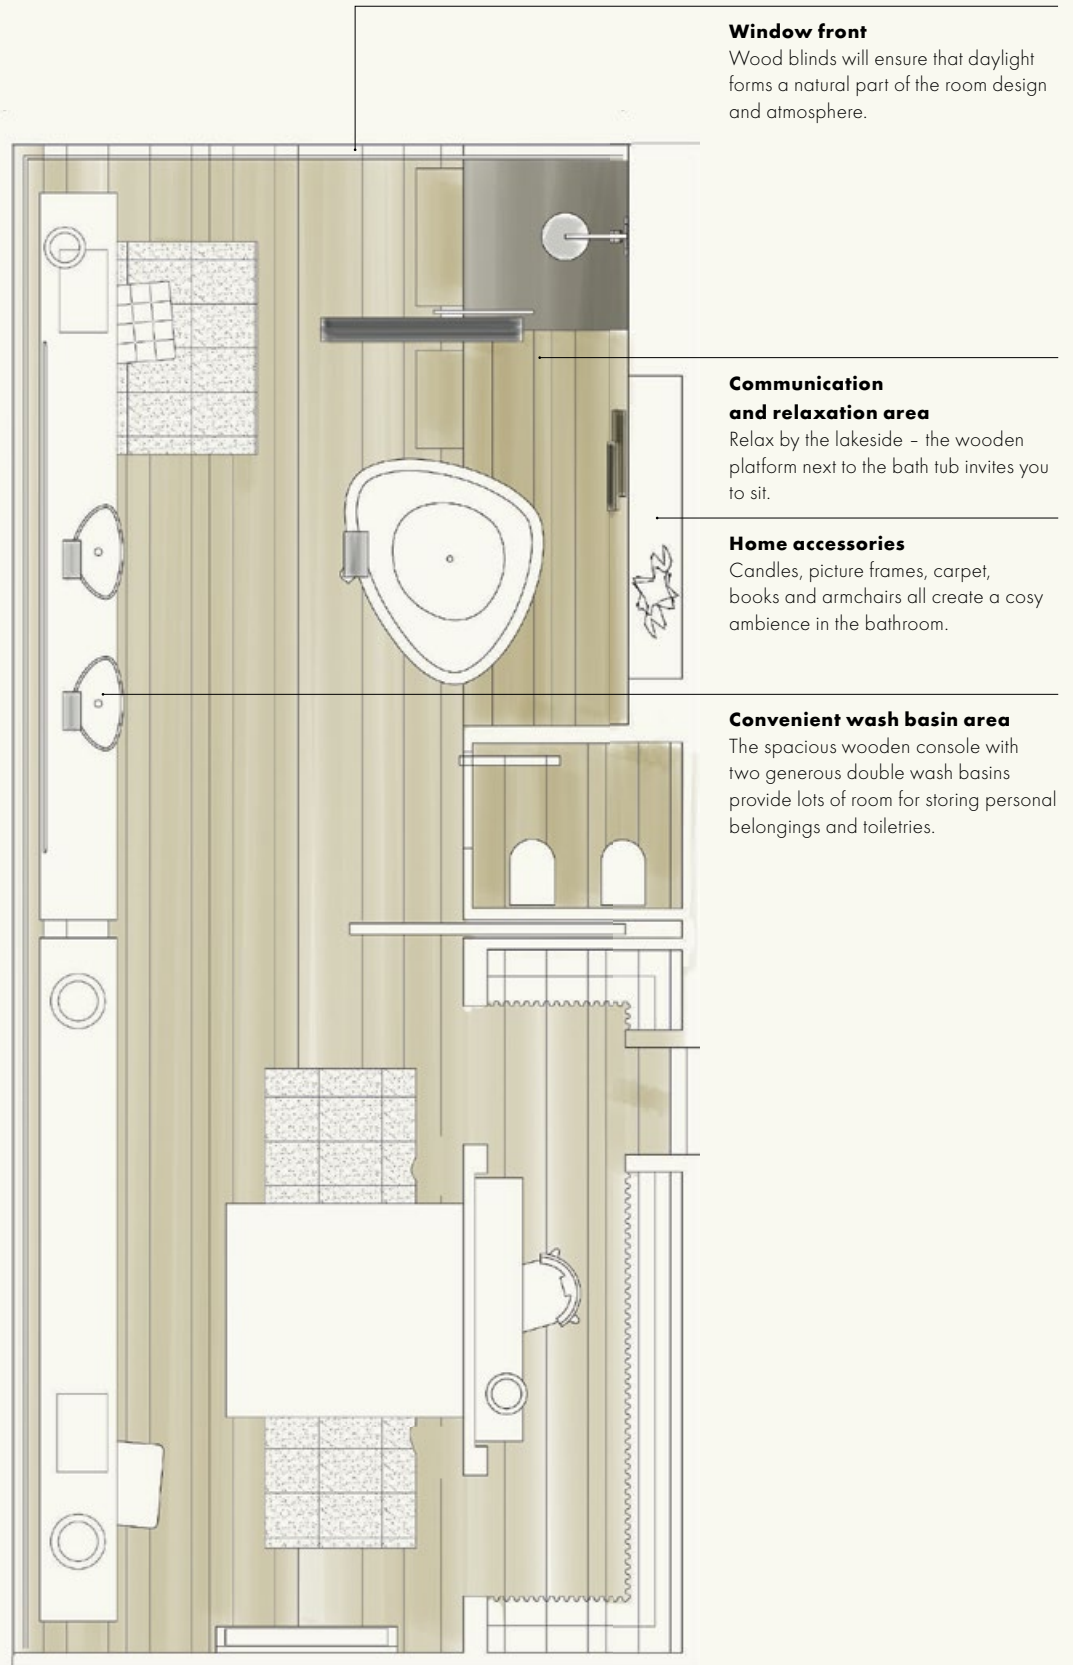

THE BATHROOM INSPIRED BY NATURE

HARMONY BETWEEN MAN, NATURE, SPACE AND TECHNOLOGY

The bathroom is transformed into a living environment. Here we can feel good. It is integrated into the rest of the home and is in harmony with the bedroom, both forming a single entity. Separated by a sliding door, both rooms merge seamlessly into one another. Users can enjoy an intimate experience with nature and water, in a spacious bathing and living environment. The free-standing bath tub evokes the sensation of floating on a lake. Wooden platforms make it appear as if you are on a beach, inviting you to linger a while. Natural materials on floor and wall bring a natural feel to the architecture of the room.

Jean-Marie Massaud was inspired by nature for his Axor Massaud bathroom. You can find the Axor Massaud bathroom on pp. 42/43.

Bathroom area: approx.
33 square metres

The small nature-inspired bathroom

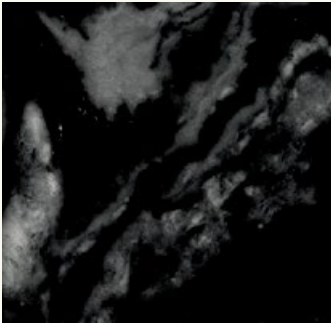

This nature-inspired bathroom concept can also be created in a smaller space, such as a hotel bathroom: A glass pane behind the bath tub creates the impression of open space going towards the bedroom, and the use of plenty of wood conveys a warm, natural feel.

Bathroom area: approx.
13 square metres

What materials bring the natural world into the bathroom?

Natural materials

Sandstone and dark marble in the wet area

Floor, platform, console

Solid wood for a feeling of being close to nature

Textile

Large, soft carpet for a cosy ambience

Felt stones:

A soft river bed in the bathroom

STYLISH FUSION OF OLD AND NEW

Renovation of an old building provides an excellent opportunity to enhance the living environment while retaining the existing features. Old and new can be beautifully combined: original herringbone parquet and stucco encounter fresh neon yellow and modern furnishings. Exposed installation products are particularly suitable for renovation in the shower, as they can be installed on existing pipe work and fittings. The bathroom in the old building was designed and developed by Fön Design from Schramberg, Germany, based on the Axor Showerpipe designed by Front (pp. 218/219).

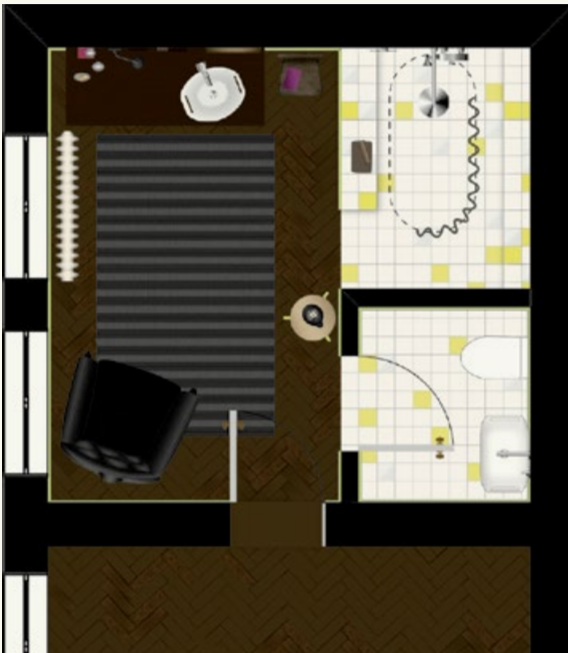

The products' fusion of styles adds greater individuality and a sense of charm to the bathroom:

- 1. Axor Citterio M basin mixer: understatement created with subtle, timeless elegance
- 2. Axor Urquiola wash bowl: nostalgia created with a design reminiscent of an old wash tub
- 3. Axor Montreux towel rack: nostalgic charm created with authentic, traditional design
- 4. Axor Showerpipe: ideal for the fusion of styles thanks to its universal design

252
253

A classic exposed installation solution, the showerpipe is ideal for the simple refurbishment of an old building:

- Existing installations can easily be used
- Mixer and shower can therefore be installed quickly and easily

Clever room division and visual augmentations can make a 10m² bathroom solution look spacious and extremely homely:

- Brick-built bench: separates the shower from the rest of the bathroom while at the same time creating a sense of open space; offers practical seating and shelf space
- Textile curtain acts as a splash guard
- Mirrors visually increase the space

THE ORGANIC, MINIMALIST BATHROOM

The ideal organic, minimalist bathroom, planned in an area of 16 m²: indoors and outdoors, nature and architecture, bathroom and bedroom all merge into one. The open shower area turns the room into a sensual spa. The toilet and bidet are sensibly separated from the feel-good area. This room concept was inspired by the Axor Starck Organic collection (p. 56) and developed by the ippolito fleiz group architectural office, Stuttgart/Germany.

Bathroom area: approx. 16 square metres

Sleeping area

The bedroom transitions freely to the bathroom, expanding the area of wellbeing

Functional area

The toilet and bidet are sensibly separated from the rest of the space and are located centrally between the bedroom and bathroom.

Shower

The shower is integrated spaciously into the room, with a convenient drying area to the front and a corner seat.

Wash basins

The wash basin is a monolith, as a dominant feature placed in the centre of the bathroom.

Organic window front

The curved window front acts as the architectural connection between the bedroom and bathroom area; outside and inside merge.

What we need is harmony.

The curved, floor-to-ceiling window lets in huge amounts of daylight and creates interesting shadow play. The interior opens up into the natural world. Inside and outside blend harmoniously into one another. The skylight above the wash basin and the shower creates a refined, homely atmosphere in the bathroom.

What materials emphasise the organic minimalist character?

Travertine
Natural material that is sensual and pleasant to touch

Petrol
Intensive colours help to structure the space.

Oak
Brushed natural wood gives a sense of energy, vitality and warmth.

Even small spaces can be open, yet meaningfully structured at the same time

The effect created by the clearly structured room layout and the separation of the shower and toilet from the rest of the bathroom. There is also space for a free-standing bath tub and a wash basin console.

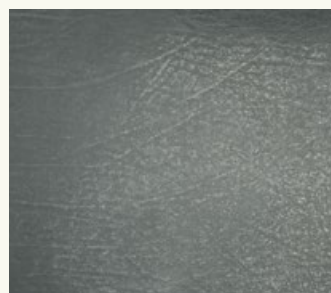

Bathroom area: approx. 10.5 square metres

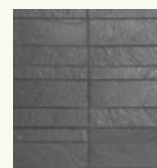

254
255

High-quality materials and pure styling produce an ambience that is clear and distinctive.

Floor tiles
The classic tile look in a discreet colour delivers a pure ambience.

Wall tiles
The structured tiles promote the understatement of the space.

Wallpaper
The pure styling of the space is underlined by the geometric design.
