

PJR SERVICES BULLETIN

Without doubt, this month the people of Ukraine are in all our thoughts. The PJR grounds team have been trying to do what they can to make a difference.

When Paul received a call to help some school parents with the transportation of goods to Ukrainian refugees, he was quick to get involved.

The influx of displaced Ukrainians to Poland has meant many have left with only the clothes they stand up in. In such a difficult time it is hard to know what we can do to help, so Paul was pleased to be asked to lend his vans and manpower.

Paul and Dan went along to Our Lady of Ransom School in Rayleigh, who had kindly agreed to be a hub for donations of much needed items such as nappies, clothes, soap, shaving goods and even pet foods,

After the donations were sorted by helpers, they were then driven by Paul and a number of volunteers, to a Polish shop in Chelmsford, who have made arrangements to send them on.

At last count, donations have overwhelmed these local collecting and transportation hubs. In such a horrible and difficult time, this is a wonderful example of the community coming together to help others in their time of need. We can only now watch and wait and hope that things improve for the people of Ukraine.

BLOWING A GALE

Us Brits love to talk about the weather and we have certainly had lots to discuss over the past month. For the first time in many years, the PJR crew thought they might not make it out in the last week of February due to Storm Eunice (and Dudley and Franklin!). Weather can affect our work, but usually we can find a way through it, from torrential rain stopping play to seriously hot days. However high winds are one thing, but you don't want to be messing around up a ladder when they are reaching 100 mph. We fancy a break from the extreme weather, so hopefully the old adage of March winds won't prove to be correct.

The month according to Paul...

The wind most certainly howled for most of last month. Three storms in one week was a bit of a challenge for the PJR team. For the most part our service was uninterrupted. We hope your businesses didn't maintain any damage! Talk to us if you need any green waste cleared from site (trees, hedging, plants, leaves) that have come loose during these recent winds.

In other news, Grounds person Dan M has just completed his First Aid refresher training. Our certificates are regularly renewed incase we need to use our skills at any point.

I was so pleased to be able to get involved with the transportation of goods to Ukraine. We really hope this will at least help improve someone's situation.

BOREDOM BEATER

Can you solve the brain teaser?
(Answer, below)

You can drop me from the tallest building and I will be well, but if u drop me in water I die. What am I?

We managed to get in from the wind to get some high level internal windows cleaned using our new Unger Stingray System.
