

DataCash required a stand that would clearly re-enforce their commitment to the gaming industry. They required a space where they could meet with and entertain existing customers. We delivered a highly visual, impactful stand incorporating both a semi-private and more occasional meeting area. The client could clearly demonstrate their on-line platform on large screens and display additional applications on iPads.