

East London Primary Maths Bee

The very first East London Primary Maths Bee saw 25 schools compete in the three main strands of the National Curriculum for maths: fluency, reasoning and problem solving.

The final on Wednesday, 22 February 2017 at Elmhurst Primary School, saw the eight remaining schools go head to head in a battle of mathematics that combined a variety of skills across the curriculum - testing the pupils' reasoning, logic, arithmetic and teamwork.

Teams from Elmhurst Primary, Nelson Primary School, Essex Primary School, Godwin Primary School, Woodlands Primary School, St Stephens School, Vicarage Primary School and Scott Wilkie Primary School competed in the thrilling final.

Eventually, it was Nelson Primary School who, after a superb performance in the problem solving round, jumped up the leader board at the last minute to win, followed by Scott Wilkie Primary School in 2nd place and St Stephen's School in 3rd place.

During the first half of the Spring term, 25 schools from across the seven boroughs of East London fielded teams for the competition.

Each team had to take part in a heat, from which the four highest scoring teams progressed to the final.

The aim of the competition was to celebrate a shared love for Maths and provide a fun opportunity to challenge the talented young mathematicians of East London in all aspects of mathematical knowledge and understanding - from calculation and arithmetic through to higher conceptual understanding and reasoning.

On Monday, 6 February 2017 Essex Primary School was represented by two Year 6 pupils (Mayiz Haque and Mubasshirah Khan) and two Year 5 pupils (Majid Ali and Eerum Rafiz) in one of the heats of the Maths Bee.

The competition was fierce and the Essex team battled through round after round against 12 other schools and the clock. The pupils enjoyed testing their arithmetic, problem solving and reasoning skills while working as a team to solve as many problems as possible.

The team finished in 3rd place at the heat and progressed to the final.

Kaizen Nursery currently has spaces for children aged 3 years old

Kaizen nursery is open Monday - Friday morning only.

Times: 8:20am - 11:20am term time

Kaizen's nursery has been judged by Ofsted as Outstanding since 2015. The nursery is open-plan and encourages children to naturally flow from inside to the outdoors. Throughout the nursery and outside, all areas of learning from the EYFS curriculum are easily identifiable with labels, colour themes and toys to attract a child's interest. Children have easy access to whatever they desire to play.

Kaizen truly support learning through play as we believe this way of learning lets children explore areas independently and learn new skills. Staff play an amazing role in guiding children to make rapid progress in developing skills across the whole curriculum. This is delivered through exciting and fun activities, planned to meet their interests and needs. We also love to invite parents/carers into our nursery to participate in parent workshops and toddler groups.

Course:

Teaching Maths for Mastery: In-Depth

A three-day course teaching maths using the Singaporean method with Juliana Loh, Singapore's first 'Master Teacher'.

After the success of her previous visit, at a course attended by sixty teachers and school leaders, we are phenomenally pleased to be running this course once again with Juliana, a primary maths teacher from Singapore with over 35 years of experience and expertise, in a partnership between Maths No Problem, Elmhurst Teaching School and London North East Maths Hub.

Ofsted, National Centre for Excellence in the Teaching of Mathematics (NCETM) and the Department for Education (DfE) have all emphasised the value of the pedagogical and discovery-learning nature of the Singapore approach to teaching maths.

With teaching methods that have been tried and tested over the last 30 years, and through the incorporation of key learning theories, such as Piaget, Dienes, Bruner, Skemp and Vygotsky Singapore has become a "laboratory of maths teaching" which has seen them rise to the top of the TIMSS and PISA international rankings.

This course is three days which allows time and space for planning and reflection on this revolutionary approach, providing you with the best chance to use this method successfully. Our Singaporean expert will cover concrete-pictorial-abstract, effective use of questioning to encourage deep mathematical thinking, bar modelling and problem-solving.

At the end of the course you will understand the key learning principles behind the success of Singapore maths and the approach used within the Maths - No Problem!

Well-being for school staff A Mindfulness Workshop

Facilitator: Louise Picton

Counsellor and Clinical Supervisor at the Brentwood Catholic Children's Society (BCCS)

Louise has worked in schools for 18 years in an educational and therapeutic capacity. After training to practice as a child and adolescent counsellor she became interested in bringing her 25 years of meditation experience to clients. Mindfulness proved to be an accessible way to do this and she has since opened up this training to school staff.

A happy, well-motivated staff is an essential ingredient in a high functioning school. The Health and Safety Executive have cited teaching as being among the top 5 occupations affected by work-related stress with 70% of teachers saying their health has suffered because of their job. An increased ability to deal with the stress and emotional intensity of the job can improve teacher/student relationships along with personal well-being.

Mindfulness/meditation practice can help school staff to change the way they think and feel about their experiences – especially stressful experiences. Mindfulness exercises are ways of paying attention to the present moment, based on techniques centred on meditation and breathing. Recent research from the University of Oxford shows that people who regularly practise mindfulness/meditation can achieve reductions of nearly 60% in their anxiety levels and 40% in their overall stress. Research explicitly carried out on teaching staff who have adopted a mindfulness practice has indicated a reduction in 'burn-out' and an improvement in classroom performance.

Mindfulness in schools has tended to focus on students – this introductory workshop aims to address school staff. It will provide a brief overview of the theory behind mindfulness/meditation and an opportunity to sample some of the techniques that form part of a regular practice. This largely experiential morning is aimed at all primary and secondary school staff to include TAs, pastoral staff, heads of year as well as teachers. Attendees will participate in practices which they can take away and use at home and at school – in time they may even wish to share them with their students.

Feedback from delegates:

"Louise's delivery was very relaxed and open and made the theory and practical aspects of mindfulness very accessible."

"I would recommend it to anyone."

"Thank you so much for giving us strategies to learn how to take a step back from situations in class and how breathing techniques can help calm situations."

"Great trainer. Very relaxed, knowledgeable and engaging."

"I really enjoyed myself and hope my school will set up a group"

Supporting Young People in the Secondary Education Setting

Facilitator: Catherine Munns

- Lead Training and Development Co-ordinator and Counsellor, Brentwood Catholic Children's Society (BCCS)
- Team Leader, Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAMHS) (2008-2015)

Catherine studied at the Tavistock Clinic and has a Post-Graduate Diploma in children's mental health. She is also a fully qualified Counsellor with extensive experience of working with children, adolescents and families. During her role as Team Leader at CAMHS, Catherine began to deliver training to schools.

Co-Facilitator: Louise Picton

Counsellor and Clinical Supervisor at the Brentwood Catholic Children's Society (BCCS), Louise has worked in schools for 16 years in an educational and therapeutic capacity.

Schools are increasingly challenged with understanding the complexity of children and young people's emotional health and wellbeing. In addition to supporting pupils' emotional health and wellbeing, schools are also tasked with the responsibility of promoting academic achievement.

This half-day Workshop is aimed at all Secondary School staff with a view to empowering you "to be part of the response". The focus of this workshop will be on:

(a) Identifying and understanding the unconscious processes children and young people engage us in, and the ways in which we can respond; and

(b) Promoting healthy staffing bodies by supporting staff to understand the complex unconscious processes which we can become engaged, and immersed, in.

Helping staff to navigate, and 'tune in' to, the subtleties of challenging and de-skilling interactions with young people will undoubtedly result in the young person responding more positively to their teacher; their setting; and this will translate into their ability to learn. I hope that the additional upshot of understanding such interactions will be that your staff will feel calmer, self-aware, upskilled, and in a better position to help.

Feedback from recent workshops run by Catherine Munns:

'Excellent course. Highly recommended to other colleagues who work within schools or other child-centred professions.'

'This is one of the best training courses I've attended in the last three years.'

'Catherine was very tuned into how we were feeling and gave excellent targeted support for us.'

'Well put together ... I felt very confident in Catherine's knowledge and ability.'

"Schools need to have a clear awareness of the extent and nature of mental health problems in children and young people and of their responsibility to be part of the response, not least because these problems do not go away. Half of lifetime mental illness starts by the age of 14."

TLR 1A - £7,662

Required for September 2017

Do you really believe that non-selective schools can provide as high quality an education as any other school in the country?

Are you passionate about high quality teaching?

Do you want to work in a school where they ask every day 'what is the best way to do this'?

Is your own teaching outstanding, and do you have the skills and knowledge to help others develop their teaching?

Are you resilient, imaginative, thoughtful, conscientious and determined?

Do you treat staff and students the way that you expect to be treated yourself?

Are you continuously on the lookout for examples of outstanding practice which your institution can learn from?

An exceptional school: Our vision is a world class education for young people in Newham. Lister is a large 11-16 comprehensive school at the heart of its community. Our November 2013 Ofsted report spoke of the school's 'consistent focus on raising the quality of teaching and developing a culture of learning and high aspirations across the school'. Recognised as one of the most improved schools in the country (DfE, January 2014) this is reflected in our sustained drive to become an Outstanding school with our Progress 8 at +0.54 and 5(A*-C) including English & Maths at 65%, the sixth consecutive year this has increased. The school benefits from a range of external partnerships including becoming the first partner school in the Music in Secondary Schools Trust, supported by the Andrew Lloyd Webber Music Foundation and the Charles Wolfson Charitable Trust, and working in collaboration with Highbury Grove School in Islington.

A positive impact: Our students are courteous, motivated and have high aspirations. You would be working in a school where 61% of students are identified as Pupil Premium and around 60% with EAL, where staff are committed to addressing educational disadvantage.

Opportunity for further impact: On average 95.1% of GCSE triple Science (Biology, Chemistry and Physics) students made expected progress and 72.7.7% achieved better than expected progress, providing our students with access to the best colleges. 84.4% of students in GCSE Additional Science made expected progress and 47.4% made better than expected progress.

The chance to develop: work alongside and lead colleagues with high expectations, engage with a broad range of exceptional CPD tailored to your own professional development as a subject leader. Subject specific CPD includes working alongside the Institute of Physics, Physics factory and the Royal Society of Chemistry. Work in a team that provides real potential for career progression.

As part of our continued focus to further develop impact on student progress we are seeking to appoint a passionate second in Science to join our dedicated Science team. In the 2014 OFSTED inspection, Eastlea Community School was judged as 'good' where students learn well because they have very good relationships with teachers. They feel that teachers are always there to help them. The Humanities Curriculum Area includes 5 subjects, all of which have improved since 2012. Geography results in the school have increased from 25% [2012] to 84.7 A*-C [2015] although these dipped to 53% in 2016, we are again projected to exceed the National Average this year.
