The Arc of Texas maintains household recycling offices in Dallas/Fort Worth, San Antonio, and Austin that solicit donations of clothing, appliances, and other household items from the general public and then sells the donated items to an unrelated third party. The net profits from these operations are then used to support the Arc's program activities. A portion of the net profits are also distributed to local Arc chapters to assist with their exempt purpose activities. The management and board of directors of the Arc of Texas believe the household recycling activity is a program service of the organization. To be consistent with prior years' reporting, the expenses are reported as program services on Form 990 and not as a component of fund raising.

4b (Code:) (Expenses $ 897,811. including grants of $) (Revenue $)

Advocacy, Group Homes, and Grants provide information and support to people with disabilities. Our firm mailed in the second extension asking for extra time because the financial statement audit had not been completed. We advised the taxpayers that we had properly extended the extension on their behalf. However, our tax director that handled the extension failed to sign it. The IRS denied the extension causing the return to become immediately delinquent. Therefore we respectfully request the taxpayer not be penalized as we advised them their return was properly extended.
